Third St. Clair suspect placed on probation

Felony terrorism charge dropped in plea deal

A man allegedly involved in a series of incidents that preceded a Marsing man's shooting death in 2019 was sentenced Thursday.

James Rushworth received four years felony probation after entering a guilty plea to felony malicious injury to property.

Rushworth is one of three men arrested in the days after Rod St. Clair died of gunshot wounds on his Marsing property on Nov. 15, 2019.

According to online court records, Owyhee County Prosecuting Attorney Jeffrey L. Phillips dropped a felony count of terrorism.

Third District Judge Davis VanderVelde also imposed

Sheriff struggles to retain full-timers

Two staffers back to part-time

Owyhee County Sheriff Perry Grant has struggled to retain full-time employees.

But the difficulty could be a reflection of a trend challenging law enforcement agencies across the Treasure Valley and beyond.

Recently, some full-timers have scaled back to part-time — jail commander Steve Crawford and sheriff's Lt. Jim Vincent, a detention deputy.

Vincent and Crawford took grade and hourly pay reductions from $22.37 to $20.08.

Grant thinks the high demands required for working in law enforcement might be part of the problem.

"Holding employees full-time has been difficult in this time," he said. "I saw an article on how Idaho is the No. 1 state for people quitting their jobs."

"There is a mix on why — this job is demanding, and the

Humane Society takes in dozens of dogs from Marsing home

Animals could be available for adoption after undergoing medical care

The West Valley Humane Society is rehabilitating dozens of dogs people discovered on the Marsing-area property of a deceased family member.

A WVHS spokesperson said Friday afternoon that about 45 of the 60 canines are receiving food, shelter and treatment at the private non-profit's Caldwell kennel.

The family has rehomed some of the animals, and a few are still on the property because they have evaded capture.

The Idaho Humane Society also took six of the dogs.

Seventeen dogs and a hawk were rounded up on Thursday when the humane society staff first visited the property.

West Valley won't disclose the exact location of the property out of respect for the family's privacy.

According to a post on the WVHS' Facebook page, some of the animals were malnourished and infested with worms and fleas. There were at least 10

Legionnaires to adorn vets’ graves in biannual tradition

Public flag retirement ceremony planned

American Legion Post 128 members will conduct a pre-Veterans Day flag placing ceremony at 3 p.m., on Tuesday at Marsing-Homedale Cemetery.

The Legionnaires meet for every Veterans Day and Memorial Day to place flags at the graves of veterans of all branches of the U.S. military at the cemetery located off U.S. Highway 95, at 4410 Cemetery Road between Marsing and Homedale.

Members will gather at 10 a.m., on Saturday, Nov. 13 to retrieve the flags.

An hour after the retrieval, the post commanders from the Marsing- and Homedale-based Legion posts hope to see members of the public for a solemn flag retirement ceremony.

Post 128 Cmdr. Darryl Burham and George D. Vanderhoff Post 32 Cmdr. Bob Warner invite will oversee a flag retirement ceremony in the cemetery parking lot at 11 a.m., on Nov. 13.

There will be a complete ceremony with the unfolding and folding of flags, incinerating and burying the ashes.

Post 128’s Kathy Barton said the whole ceremony will take about an hour and suggests attendees bring lawn chairs.

Barton said that the flags to be retired are among a vast collection received from community members and collection boxes placed at Tolmie’s Ace Hardware in Homedale and outside Marsing City Hall.

Only a couple flags will be retired next week; it would take hours to retire the number of flags that have been collected, Barton said.

“We have a group that has been doing that over past weeks as time and weather permits,” Barton said.

Barton said grommets from the flags are saved and the American Legion Department of Idaho uses the leftover brass to create bells.

She said two of the bells made from grommets were placed on the new USS Idaho SSN-799, the fifth U.S. Naval vessel named for Idaho in the past 100 years.

Marsing Elementary Vets Day program going online again

Like its 2020 Veterans Day program, the Marsing Elementary School celebration of veterans and active military personnel will have limited admittance.

Kindergarten through fifth-grade students will sing and make presentations for vets on Thursday, Nov. 11 in the school district cafeteria, but they’ll perform in front of a small audience.

Doors will open at 1:30 p.m., with refreshments, and the program will begin at 2 p.m.

The school district has opted to limit the number of people who can gather in the cafeteria to veterans/active military personnel and their spouses. The veterans, spouses and school staff will be the only people able to view the assembly in person.

Only one grade level will be allowed in the cafeteria at any one time.

Parents will not be allowed into the building, but the program will be available online.

A link to the live stream will be available on the school district website, www.marsing schools.org, on the morning of the show.

The assembly will be available for viewing afterward on the elementary school’s YouTube page.

Veterans who wish to attend the performance can park at the secondary school parking lot or on the north side of the cafeteria entrance.

Marsing resident and U.S. Marine Corps veteran Cory Callison, a recently retired lieutenant colonel, will talk with some elementary students about his experience in the military on Veterans Day, too.

Callison will meet with fourth-graders from 8:05 a.m., to 8:50 a.m., and visit with fifth-graders from 9 a.m., to 9:45 a.m.

“Since we only have students coming in and out of the performance, we felt that doing it as a group in the morning would be more impactful,” Marsing Elementary principal Tim Little said.

Students will have screened questions to ask Callison after his presentation.

Bazaar tops Homedale Sr. Center’s crowded calendar

Vendor spots still available;
HHS senior gathering auction items

November is a busy month at the Homedale Senior Center, even if the annual fundraising holiday bazaar weren’t making a comeback.

The Holiday Bazaar Arts & Crafts Fair will take place from 9 a.m., to 3 p.m., on Saturday, Nov. 13 inside the senior center, 224 W. Idaho Ave.

Vendor spots are still available. Rental prices are $12 for a 60-inch round table or a 6-foot-long table and $6 for a card table or a small table.

A silent auction is planned, and Homedale High School student Natalia Martinez is soliciting auction items as her senior leadership project.

Donations will be accepted until the day of the bazaar. Natalia reported during the Oct. 26 Homedale Chamber of Commerce meeting that she has already received donations from Albertsons and AutoZone.

“Over the last couple weeks, I’ve visited some businesses and explained to them what I’m doing,” the daughter of Berenice and Jose Martinez said.

Natalia, 17, is not accepting cash donations.

To arrange silent auction donation pick-up, contact Natalia at (208) 605-0285 or nataliamart33803@gmail.com.

For more information, contact the senior center at (208) 337-3020 or homedalesrctr04@gmail.com.

Proceeds from booth rental and the silent auction will benefit the senior center’s Meals on Wheels program and help in the general operation of the center.

The rest of the busy month at the senior center includes:

- The monthly board of directors meeting, which is open to the public, will be held at 1:30 p.m., on Tuesday.
- The bi-monthly foot clinic will be held on Tuesday, Nov. 23. Examinations will begin at 8:30 a.m., and folks are seen on a first-come, first-served basis. Foot examinations cost $20, and ear cleanings are available for $15.

The next foot clinic is scheduled for January, and the coordinator visits only every other month unless demand warrants more frequent clinics.

- The center’s Thanksgiving dinner is planned for Tuesday, Nov. 23.

The center will be closed Nov. 24 and Nov. 25 for the holiday.

- The Fit and Fall exercise class is held from 10:30 a.m., to 11:30 a.m., every Tuesday and Thursday prior to the congregate luncheon.
- The Ladies Coffee Group meets at 9 a.m., each Wednesday.

HHS seniors helping the community

Some Homedale High School seniors shared details of their projects at the Homedale Chamber of Commerce meeting on Oct. 26.

Destiny Castellanos, 18, has organized a coat drive. Donate at the high school (203 E. Idaho Ave.), the middle school (3437 Johnstone Rd.), and the elementary school (420 W. Washington Ave.)

“Spread the word. Clean out your closet,” she said.

The 18-year-old daughter of Celine and Fernand Castellanos seeks new and used coats, gloves, hooded sweatshirts and sweaters. Donate until Friday, Nov. 19.

The items will be handed out as part of the Nov. 19 Idaho Foodbank drop-off at Homedale First Presbyterian Church, 320 N. 6th St. W.

She is accepting cash donations to purchase winter wear, too. Call Castellanos at (208) 965-0264 for details.

Cheyenne Kelly, 17, coordinated Thursday’s Halloween carnival. She’s the daughter of Cherry Kelly. — TK

✓ Dogs: Donations of blankets, toys, beds, money sought

pregnant female dogs.

Donations of money and pet supplies are being accepted to care for the animals, and the WVHS always accepts help to care for the other animals it houses at its Caldwell location.

Thousands of dollars in donations have been raised through the West Valley Humane Society Facebook page, and the WVHS reported it is also accepting donations of dog food, blankets, toys and beds for help make the animals comfortable.

Once the dogs undergo medical care and are brought back to good health, the West Valley Humane Society will put them up for adoption.

“Some of the dogs will be available next week,” the spokesperson said. “Some will require additional time and assessment before becoming available.”

Medical treatments will include dental treatments,

One of the dogs found in a kennel had wounds on the face and also showed signs of sores on the hindquarters. Photo courtesy West Valley Humane Society vaccinations, and flea treatments. The dogs will be spayed or neutered and dewormed, too. Photos on the WVHS Facebook page also showed some dogs with open sores.

Some of the dogs are headed to other Idaho animal rescue programs for more individual support, the spokesperson said.

“The majority of the dogs are not used to people and are not able to be leashed or touched,” the spokesperson said.

The majority of the dogs are Chihuahuas and Chihuahua mixes. There were cattle dog mixes, too, with possibly three or more breeds in their mixes.

Because West Valley Humane Society isn’t licensed to handle wildlife, the hawk was taken to Animals in Distress for its care.

The spokesperson said the Owyhee County Sheriff’s Office was not involved in the operation.

“Owyhee County does not have any animal control,” the spokesperson said. “WVHS is not a law enforcement agency and does not have jurisdiction in Owyhee County, so no law enforcement agencies were involved.”

All animals available for adoption appear on the WVHS website, <https://westvalleyhumanesociety.org>

Extension volunteers help community, build their knowledge

Extension volunteers engage with individuals in their local communities to extend research-based information to all. The University of Idaho Extension is fortunate to have several specialized volunteer organizations that help expand programming in food preservation, garden and landscape, and 4-H Youth Development to name just a few. Would you consider joining the band of dedicated volunteers in your county?

Suriñe Greenway

Nic Usabel

Volunteering for a local group or organization can provide opportunity to connect and network with individuals who have a similar passion in helping those in their community. In addition, service provides a chance to network and share with one another about a topic you care a great deal about. Beyond serving the community, Extension volunteers build new skills and learn new research-based content that can be applied in their own household and community.

Gardening

Idaho Master Gardeners (IMG) improve their horticultural knowledge, skills, and serve their communities. The motto of the Idaho Master Gardener program is “helping people grow,” and volunteers do just that. To obtain certification as an Idaho Master Gardener, coursework is completed to help better enhance knowledge and understanding of plant growth and development, soils, pesticides, nutrients, insect pests, and diseases while developing critical thinking and problem-solving skills. During and after the coursework, a volunteer donates hours back to their local program.

Idaho Master Gardeners

University of Idaho Extension volunteers study to become Master Gardeners or Master Food Safety Advisors then help community members with advice or classes in the greenhouse (top) and in the kitchen (above). Submitted photos can be found devoting volunteer hours at the free plant diagnostic clinic, teaching community gardening classes and workshops, mentoring youth or adults in community and school gardens, operating a booth at local community events, publishing blogs and social media posts with research-based information, or facilitating integrated pest management walks to provide appropriate alerts of pests and disease on the Pacific Northwest Pest Alert Network.

Food safety

The Master Food Safety Advisor (MFSA) Program is designed for participants to gain knowledge in food handling, food safety and food preservation topics, which include dehydration, canning jam and jellies, high-acid canning such as salsas, fermentation, smoking foods, low-acid canning, and freezing foods. Program coursework includes hands-on activities to enhance skills in the knowledge content areas that are emphasized in this class, which include dehydrating different food products, canning different recipes, including taste-testing, and discussing qualities and concerns regarding food handling and food preservation in the home.

After the coursework of the program, volunteers are able to give back to their community.

There are multiple ways that Master Food Safety Advisors have the option to complete their volunteer hour donation to many different communities located in the Treasure Valley region. Some of these include answering food safety questions from general clientele, teaching food safety and food preservation workshops to community members and groups, assisting at structured educational events, create social media content surrounding food safety and food preservation, hosting research-based information at booths during local events and so many more.

As University of Idaho Extension, we appreciate the many hours our volunteers give in each of their respective counties and area of interest. We work with an excellent group of dedicated volunteers who we find to be invaluable in reaching the clientele in our community.

Upcoming programs are beginning soon and have limited space available. Find an application for Idaho Master Gardener at bit.ly/IMG2022

Chamber nails down parade theme

Merchants concerned about Idaho Ave.-Main St. flooding

The Homedale Chamber of Commerce decided on an “Old-Fashioned, All-American Christmas” theme for the Homedale for the Holidays parade.

Themes are typically Christmas movie-related, but representative businesses chose to go a different route this year. Other options included “Home Alone,” and “Charlie Brown Christmas.”

“There is a lot of turmoil in our country right now,” Voodoo Graphx owner Melanie Mitchell said, suggesting the All-American Christmas theme.

The parade starts at 6 p.m., on Saturday, Nov. 27, with lineup beginning at 5:30 p.m., on East Owyhee Avenue between Main Street and 2nd Street East.

The night-light parade will take its traditional route, winding west on Owyhee Avenue, turning south on 3rd Street East, and east on Idaho Avenue until it reaches its terminus at Homedale High School.

Homedale Mayor Gheen Christoffersen confirmed that a community tree-lighting at Bette Uda City Park, complete with coffee and hot chocolate, would follow the parade.

Mayor addresses flooding

Homedale businesspersons expressed relief that the Idaho Avenue reconstruction project was in the home stretch, but several merchants did have concerns about flooding at the intersection of West Idaho Avenue and Main Street after recent heavy rains.

Christoffersen said the cause of standing water at the intersection and resulting flooding is still unclear.

“We’re trying to figure it out,” the mayor said. “Was it literally blockage or is it a construction issue? They’re still diagnosing.”

He said he doesn’t believe fingers can be pointed at project contractor Knife River Corp. He also noted that once the drainage system is tested and passes inspection, any issues become the city’s responsibility.

The Idaho Transportation Department or Knife River are no longer responsible.

“An hour-and-a-half later (after the rain), I was driving by and the water was down a lot, so if it was a blockage, it must have worked its way through,” Christoffersen said.

✓ Suspect: Rushworth vandalized vehicle

finer and court fees totaling $595.50.

Rushworth changed his not guilty plea on July 22 after reaching a Rule 11 plea agreement with Phillips.

Because of the Rule 11 plea agreement, VanderVelde had to impose the agreed-upon sentencing and was unable to go outside the bounds of the agreement between the prosecution and Rushworth’s defense attorney.

Court records indicate that Rushworth entered the St. Clair property “with intent to use violence against such person or his property,” and that he smashed the windshield and driver’s-side window of St. Clair’s 2005 Toyota Avalon sedan.

A second suspect, Mark W. Warner, remains in Idaho Department of Correction custody after he entered a Rule 11 plea to aggravated battery and aggravated assault with enhancement.

Warner was accused of attacking St. Clair with a medieval weapon and also using the man as a human shield when St. Clair’s daughter, Debby Thompson, attempted to shoot Warner.

St. Clair died from gunshot wounds suffered in the altercation, and Warner was also wounded.

Warner was placed on a rider when he was sentenced on July 28, 2020. His one year of retained jurisdiction was to be reviewed this summer, but he remains in custody according to Idaho Department of Correction records.

He’s eligible for parole in 2024.

Warner received a suspended sentence of five years to life in prison at his disposition hearing.

The third man arrested in the vicinity of the incident on Nov. 15, 2019, Joshua Jon McDaniel, had a felony weapons charge and misdemeanor resisting arrest charge dropped in January 2020.

✓ Sheriff: More detention deputies hired recently positions Crawford and Vincent were working, along with the 911 coordinator, are probably the most stressful I have.”

Paula Rhodes is part-time 911 coordinator, filling in after Sarah Kipper left the full-time job. Grant continues to look for a full-time solution.

Grant says the jail has had more than its fair share of difficult inmates with medical and behavioral issues.

And, he says, the salary scale plays a role.

“At our pay, it’s hard to justify for some,” Grant said. “Even Canyon, who pays a lot more, is down at least 20 detention deputies and several dispatch and patrol positions.”

“This entire valley is having a difficult time retaining, and it is for almost any reason you can imagine.”

According to Canyon County public information officer Joe Decker, the neighboring sheriff’s office is down more than 20 positions as of Monday — 12 jail deputies, five patrol deputies, and seven dispatch positions.

“The anti-law enforcement rhetoric has ... caused some to retire early and/or leave the profession altogether,” Decker said. “The other big factor is economics/wages.”

“The county is continuously looking at ways to increase our entry-level wages and overall salary ranges to help with recruitment and retention.”

Grant has made several new hires, and others have transferred to new positions and status.

• With Vincent moving to part time, the sheriff hired, with approval from the Board of Owyhee County Commissioners, David Reed from the Malheur County Sheriff’s Office. Reed previously served OCSO as a detention deputy, interim jail commander, and a reserve deputy.

Reed’s father George was the county’s original back-country deputy.

“David Reed worked under (former Owyhee County Sheriff Gary) Aman and left shortly after (Daryl) Crandall took office,” Grant said. “When I took office, he approached me and offered to work (off-highway vehicle patrol) and help part-time.”

Reed was hired full-time at $22.14 per hour, effective Tuesday.

• Connie Peterson has moving from corporal to sergeant at the jail. Her hourly pay increased from $19.53 to $21.09.

• OCSO has also hired two new detention deputies.

Chase Rhodes was approved during the Oct. 25 commissioners meeting, and the board signed off on Rick Demurjian on Monday.

Earning $15.50 per hour, Rhodes fills a full-time spot vacated by Brandon Peterson.

Demurjian is a temporary hire making $18.08 per hour.

DUI suspected in injury wreck

A two-vehicle accident on Saturday afternoon south of Marsing sent a woman to the hospital and a man to jail.

Authorities suspect 52-year-old Marsing resident Mark Denney was drunk when the wreck occurred on Idaho highway 78 near Meininger Road.

According to Owyhee County Sheriff’s Chief Deputy Lynn Bowman, Denney was driving westbound in a pickup truck pulling a trailer when he allegedly swerved out of his lane.

When Denney tried to correct his driving, the trailer struck an eastbound Nissan carrying a 38-year-old woman from Homedale and three young children.

Marsing Ambulance transported the woman to a Nampa hospital. Bowman did not know the extent of her injuries. The children — ranging in age from one month to 6 years — were not injured.

Denney allegedly slurred his speech when he apparently admitted to having a couple drinks, Bowman said. After failing a standard field sobriety test, he was charged with felony driving under the influence (aggravated).

A Homedale Police officer brought a Lifeloc device to the scene, and Denney’s breath test revealed a blood-alcohol concentration of .198 percent, Bowman said.

Denney made his initial appearance before Magistrate Judge Shane Darrington on Monday afternoon in a Murphy courtroom. At press time, he was still in custody at the county jail.

Grand View altercation leads to domestic battery arrest

A Middleton man is in Owyhee County Jail on a domestic battery charge after a verbal argument escalated Friday evening in Grand View.

Owyhee County Sheriff’s Chief Deputy Lynn Bowman said that a 29-year-old woman called 911 at 9:39 p.m., claiming to have been punched in the face by Cory Lee Fortin, 33.

According to the woman, the confrontation started as an argument, but then she was pushed several times. When she pushed back, Fortin punched her in the face.

The woman bit through her lip during the incident, Bowman said.

Fortin was charged with felony domestic battery with traumatic injury. He has a prior domestic battery charge in Ada County, Bowman said.

Fortin and the victim have two kids in common, Bowman said.

Homedale’s city library marks 100 years

Milestone year

The year 2021, and fall in particular, are fairly important mile markers in time for the Homedale city library.

The first library, the 18-foot-by-18-foot white, wood-frame building that sits behind the old city library at 125 W. Owyhee Ave., was built 100 years ago.

The old city library, which is now the Homedale Community Center, was dedicated on Oct. 4, 1980.

Months before the dedication, the original library was moved from its original location on the north side of the first block of West Owyhee Avenue to its contemporary location.

The concept of a Homedale library predates the town’s status as a township and actually began to brew about nine months after the Austrian Settlement families arrived.

Current library board member Nancy Belknap sat down last month and compiled the history of the Homedale library, and it is presented here.

— Ed.

by Nancy Belknap
Homedale library board

The idea for a Homedale library was inspired by the Home and School Circle members on Oct. 22, 1914. The group’s name changed in 1916 to the Owyhee Improvement Club and later to the Homedale Improvement Club. Although the name changed, the members’ steadfast purpose was to improve schools, libraries, churches, parks, playgrounds and other public works.

Mrs. Deborah Ferry, a town-site owner, gave a lot for a library building. Books came from the state traveling library and a 100-book donation from the Caldwell library. Mrs. Ferry also donated 100 books and paid for the freight on them from Minneapolis, Minn.

A reading room was established in the Wood Hotel, open for two hours a week. The library books were variously located in Mrs. Rogers’ home, the Tony Freeman building and Mrs. Hall’s building.

The 1916 book collection spurred the Homedale Improvement Club to acquire a permanent library building. The group raised funds through suppers, socials and programs until 1921 when an 18-by-18 square foot white, wooden building with a full basement was built by J.D. Wright, a well-known builder. Homedale Lumber and Coal, Homedale Forwarding Co., and Homedale Drug offered building materials at reduced cost. Club members brought a “chair from home” to furnish the building located on the north side of Owyhee Avenue between Main Street and 1st Street West.

Mrs. E.T. Rogers served as librarian for 10 years followed by Mildred Wright Kowalk when Mrs. Rogers resigned. Mrs. Susan Aldrich (Hazel Aldrich’s mother) cared for the library supported with club members’ help, and Hazel followed her mother as librarian until 1980.

Of special historic interest, the basement of the original library was used as a sewing room to give women employment as a project of the Works Progress

Hazel Aldrich (left) and Dorothy Aldrich hold a special place inside Gypsy Jackson Memorial Library and in the history of libraries in Homedale. Hazel (1903-1991) and Dorothy (1904-1995) were both instrumental and active in the operation of the library.

Administration (WPA) during the Great Depression. As part of the World War II contribution, club members offered free office space for the War Price and Rationing Board.

Library purchases and expenses came from the Homedale Improvement Club volunteers until 1973 when the Homedale City Council provided financial support. The club turned the library over to the city, and a new building began its planning stage in 1976. Because of the historic value of the library and its solid condition, the Improvement Club stipulated when it deeded the original building to the city that the structure would never be torn down. The city received the building, contents and grounds with the deed signed on Nov. 10, 1975. George Murray was mayor at the time. The first library board was appointed in May 1977.

By 1978, the library was so overcrowded only the librarian, Hazel

Aldrich, knew where to find titles stored in the basement. As ideas for a new library were considered, library board members conceived that the old library should be moved from its original site.

John Dean of the Idaho Statesman recounted the move of the wooden library to its current location. Thirty-five National Guardsmen used 45 tons of heavy machinery to lift the building from its foundation onto a flatbed truck. When unloaded, the building stood a block from its original site and behind the brown brick library located at 125 W. Owyhee Ave.

The new library was dedicated on Oct. 4, 1980, six months after the originally library was relocated.

A week before the move, the old library revealed items of interest. A 1935 newspaper, a portrait of George Washington, and a 48-star flag were found hidden in the walls and ceiling. If those items became available today, the little wooden building could become a museum for artifacts and stories about the Homedale of yesteryear.

This idea came to the library board members responsible for the new 1980 building — Mardel Kiesel, Elsie Kushlan, Mildreda Shanley, Phyllis Van Slyke and Opal Nash.

U and I Together focuses on grilling

Family Reading Week activities planned

With unseasonable weather intermingled with fall rain, folks might still be thinking about grilling on their patio.

With that in mind, Friday’s installment of the University of Idaho Extension’s U and I Together program tackles grilling steak.

The free education series takes place at 2 p.m., each Friday at the Gypsy Jackson Memorial Library, 121 W. Owyhee Ave., in Homedale.

U of I Owyhee County Extension Educator Scott Jensen will lead “Steak Anyone?”

The class, which is part of the Idaho Beef Council’s promotion campaign will show participants what they need to know when choosing a steak and grilling it to perfection.

During this week’s class, Jensen will show participants how to select, season and grill a steak.

Demonstrations will include how to make an easy rub, and attendees will be able to make their own rub to take home.

The highlight of the grilling class will be some steak to sample.

Family Reading Week set

The library will mark Idaho Family Reading Week with an hour-long event beginning at 6 p.m., on Thursday, Nov. 11.

The theme for the weeklong celebration, which runs Monday through Sunday, Nov. 14, is “Believe and Achieve.”

All week long, there will be passive activities for youth.

On Nov. 11, library staff promises a fun family night activity.

Roman Smith, 5, eyes his target and gets ready to let loose his disc during Friday’s U and I Together class at Riverside Park in Homedale.

Song, story on Monday

Lora Woodward will show off her musical talents during Monday’s Opal Nash Story Time.

Woodward will participate for the story/folk song “The Fox Went Out on a Chilly Night.”

The other featured story for the 10:15 a.m., preschool event will be “The Scarecrow’s Hat.”

Children will make a toilet paper roll fox for the craft.

More STEM planned

Boys and girls ages 10-17 are invited to Teens & Tweens for a Science, Technology, Engineering and Mathematics activity.

During the program, planned for 5 p.m., on Thursday, participants will paint with magnets.

On the edge of common sense

The dreaded blue box

I had just finished loading 184 seven-foot steel T-posts, old ones, by the way, in my pickup and was unloading a mere 24 bales of hay from the front section of my gooseneck stock trailer. It was a hot, humid afternoon in early fall when the dead braches begin to stick out of the cottonwood greenery, and the garden starts goin’ to heck and no one cares. I could almost smell the cumin from Ramon’s #6 Combination Plate being distilled in my sweat from lunch earlier. Then I saw the blue box.

The dreaded blue box. It was still in the stock trailer. It needed to be moved.

The blue box is a metal toolbox I have had since I bought my first set of “made in America” sidecutters, thinking they would last longer. I have now realized that all sidecutters have the sharpness longevity of fresh fruit. They should be thrown out about as often as you empty the trash barrel in the shop.

Anyway, over the years, the blue box has become my chain holder. It will hold four or five good log chains. I have always said that a hundred pounds of salt weighs more than a hundred pounds of anything else. But a 10-by-10-by-18-inch metal tool box full of log chains is harder to carry than a sheet of plywood in a hurricane.

There are other things that can stimulate a similar sinking feeling, e.g., the same cow prolapsing for the third time, somebody commenting that my horse seems to be favoring his left front, or the phone ringing in the deep of night.

I don’t know exactly what it is about the old blue toolbox that I dread. I’ve heaved it, moved it, loaded it, dropped it, pushed it and cussed it through a lifetime succession of jobs and homes, horses, and kids, and ups and downs.

Maybe it’s not because it’s heavier than God’s own anvil, clumsier than an ostrich in a Porta Potty or uglier than a ’58 Buick. No, maybe it’s because I realize it’s gonna outlive me by a long time. By its earthly clock, I’m just a temporary passerby, while it will still be here when men are walking on Pluto.

I have thoughts of storing my chains in a gunny sack, takin’ the ole tool box to the dump and reestablishing the peckin’ order in my life. But every time I get as far as step one, I see it layin’ there like a concrete loaf of bread, like a 200-pound rattlesnake, and the dread sweeps over me in a wave.

So, I let it lay or move it if I have to. I’ve come to realize there are some things you just can’t do anything about.

Scouting for Food

You can help feed Owyhee’s needy

by Kelli G. Jenkins
JustServe

Most of us are fortunate to have food in our pantries and a warm dinner on the table every night, but sadly many in our community are suffering, struggling to put food on the table, and in need of a lift up during these trying times.

During this historic pandemic, communities are experiencing extraordinary needs. It is estimated that 1 in 6 Idahoans and 1 in 4 children are potentially facing food insecurity. Local food banks are being overwhelmed by food requests from families who don’t have food in their pantries.

Scouting for Food is an annual food-collection drive run by the Boy Scouts of America and its community partners Taco Bell, Beckman Foundation, and JustServe plus friends of scouting and many food bank volunteers.

Some think that one of the Boy Scout slogans is a bit old-fashioned: “Do a Good Turn Daily.” Their slogan puts into practical terms the concept of helpfulness. “DO” means that we don’t wait for others, but rather we see a need and ask others to join us to “Do a Good Turn Daily.” It’s time for all of us to demonstrate our devotion to community service by doing a good turn to help fill the empty shelves in our local food banks so they can continue doing a good turn by helping those in our community who are hungry.

The Scouting for Food drive will take place on Saturday, Nov. 13. Days before, Boy Scouts and their community partners will distribute flyers in neighborhoods to let folks know about the food drive and extend invitations for the community to help fill the food banks.

On Nov. 13, these same partners and Boy Scouts will revisit those same houses and neighborhoods to pick up sacks of non-perishable foods like pasta, peanut butter, canned fruits and vegetables, spaghetti sauce, tuna fish and canned meats, and other shelf-stable foods. All food items collected will be delivered to local food banks in the Homedale and Marsing communities.

You can help fill the food banks, too. Join the Scouting for Food drive by planning your own unique way to participate. Organize a Scouting for Food drive within your churches, businesses, service clubs, families and neighborhoods. Gather all nonperishable food items and deliver them directly to either local food bank in Homedale and Marsing on Saturday, Nov. 13, between 10 a.m. and noon. Also, if you don’t receive a flyer, join us by dropping off non-perishable food directly to one of the food banks:

Homedale — El-Ada Community Partnership Owyhee County food pantry, 15 W. Colorado Ave.

Marsing — The Marsing HUB food pantry, 205 8th Ave. W.

This is a unique time for all of us and a perfect season to do something small that will make a big difference in the lives of others. Let’s unite as a community, help to fill local food banks, and show our love and commitment to helping others by “Doing a Good Turn Daily.”

Letter to the editor

Make 2022 candidates talk about prison reform

I believe it’s funny how politicians say their entire campaign [how] they want to develop a new prison reform.

Well, let me give you a look from the inside. See, we don’t deserve any extra privileges. What we do, however, deserve are civil rights — recreation, showers, time out of our cell.

Here at Idaho Maximum Security Institution, those rights are usually not given accordingly. We are “understaffed” (so) two hours of recreation every eight days if we are not locked down due to short staff. Showers are done during our dayroom, which is every other day if we are not locked down. And if we are, it’s every 72 hours.

Restitution — Almost every inmate has some obligation to pay, and now we are locked up and not given those tools. I was parole-eligible July 16, 2019 and was told to fulfill a 10-year sentence. I self-inished [initiated an appeal] in 2020 and was told again to full term. Why? We have thousands of jobs and so many opportunities to succeed. We are now October 2021, and I will self-inish again after completing all classes asked of me. Will I get parole? Who knows?

See, inmates are no longer inmates. We are politicians’ pawns to use for their own gain.

I write this not for pity, but to draw eyes to the taxpayers’ dollars. They are being priced out of housing only to help pay for a prison system which is broken.

Letters to the editor

All letters to the editor submitted to The Owyhee Avalanche must be no longer than 300 words, signed and include the writer’s address and daytime phone number.

The deadline for submitting letters is noon on Friday. Letters can be submitted in these ways:

Nobody writes ’cause we don’t believe there will be ears to listen. Well, I am writing. I hope many enjoy and will raise questions to all 2022 candidates of both parties.

Financial management
Boyfriend needs to gain responsibility with life, finances

Dear Dave,
My boyfriend is not very good with money, and he is in a bad situation right now. He has a huge car payment every month, plus about $30,000 in credit card debt. He also lives in a very expensive apartment. He recently quit a really good job because he doesn't like his boss anymore. He has talked about filing bankruptcy, and yesterday he asked if he could move in with me. I love him, but I'm also scared. I try to manage my money well by saving, investing for retirement and staying out of debt. What does this mean for our future together?

— Crislyn

Dear Crislyn,
My guess is the guy's not really bankrupt, but it sounds like he has some maturity and character issues that need to be addressed. I'm not saying things can't change, but this is not someone to move in with or consider marrying anytime soon. You two would have a hard time as husband and wife unless he makes some real course corrections in his attitudes about money and life.
For starters, he needs to get another job, sell the expensive car and find a cheaper place to live. Leaving one position for another is OK, but deciding you just don't like something and walking away from it without another job waiting — especially when you've got bills and a bunch of debt — is just plain irresponsible.

Lots of people identify too strongly with what they drive or where they live. They come to believe those things are indications of their value or worth, and that's sad. It means something inside them is broken, and bankruptcy isn't going to fix that.
All this doesn't mean he isn't basically a decent guy, but it does mean he needs to get control of his finances — and that he's got some soul searching and growing up to do.

From Washington
Keep pressure on China, not Idaho producers

We must work to ensure free and fair trade — and use trade enforcement tools as necessary — while taking into account the best interests of our domestic manufacturers. One of the reasons I held firm on including the Trade Act of 2021 in the Senate-passed S. 1260, the U.S. Innovation and Competition Act (USICA), was to make sure the pressure stays on China, not Americans.
As Ranking Member of the Senate Finance Committee, I worked with Finance Committee Chairman Ron Wyden (D-Ore.) to negotiate a strong trade package, called the Trade Act of 2021, to push back against China in one of the most critical arenas we face: trade, our economy and working against China's efforts to undercut American companies. I successfully used the Senate filibuster to convince Senate leadership to hold a vote on whether to include the Trade Act in the broader USICA, and the Senate passed the Trade Act as an amendment by a vote of 91-4.
Among its important provisions for Idaho is a provision to create a more effective process for Americans to seek exclusions from Section 301 tariffs in appropriate cases. During the past roughly three years, the U.S. has applied Section 301 tariffs to imports of goods from China to address China's unfair and discriminatory technology transfer and intellectual property practices. I support using Section 301 tariffs to address China's unfair trade practices. However, to be effective, pressure must be applied to China, not American workers, businesses and consumers.
To tailor the tariffs to prevent negative effects on American workers, consumers and small businesses relying on imported goods for further manufacturing and sales, then-President Trump granted exclusions from the Section 301 China tariffs to American businesses to protect them from severe economic harm. Several Idaho companies received product exclusions, all of which have since expired, and are again paying tariffs on critical inputs and manufacturing components. Examples of these products include parts for off-road vehicles and snowmobiles, portable air compressors, germinated planting seeds and artificial fishing lures, among others.

The Trade Act would reinstate previously granted exclusions through 2022 to help affected businesses remain competitive in a global marketplace. The Trade Act also includes the following provisions to combat China's threats to free and fair trade:

- Directs the United States Trade Representative (USTR) to enter into negotiations to stop importation of goods made with stolen intellectual property into the U.S. and allied countries. Addressing the theft of American intellectual property, including Chinese state-owned companies stealing valuable trade secrets from U.S.-based companies, is critical to be effectively competitive against China.

- Bolsters efforts to prohibit goods made with forced labor from reaching the U.S.
- Expands the ability to strengthen crucial domestic supply chains.
- Requires development of a strategy on critical minerals (used in the manufacture of medical devices, cellphones, vehicle batteries, defense systems and more) to counter China's dominant share of that global supply.

These provisions complement the USICA that is focused on strengthening U.S. leadership in critical technologies through research and commercialization of key technology, including artificial intelligence, high-performance computing and advance manufacturing. The Trade Act and the broader USICA will strengthen America's competitive footing and help Idaho's hard-working producers compete globally. I look forward to the enactment of this important legislation that will make America more competitive with China and keep pressure where it should be.

Homedale musicians to stage free gospel show at Caldwell church

Adams, family's "Living the Legacy" slated for Monday

A free country gospel concert set next week in Caldwell has a Homedale flavor.

Nashville recording artist Betty Adams, who grew up in Homedale, and recent Homedale High School graduate Brady Trout are two of the musicians scheduled to perform at Monday's "Living the Legacy" concert at Valley Church.

Adams and Her Family Circle will be on hand for the show, according to a press release. The doors open at 6:30 p.m., and the music starts at 7 p.m. The church is located at 2900 Life Way. Lynn and Renae Hardy are pastors.

A free will offering will be taken.

Other featured musicians to appear are Honi Deaton, Jeff Deaton, Jerry Hardy, Doug Jensen and Miss Elaine. JoAnn Redburn, Ladd Johnston, Becca Perez, Renae Hardy, Christie Hardy, Brent Hunt, Thomas Grimes, Clint Adams and Jonah

Betty Adams grew up in Homedale and still has musically inclined family members in the area. Submitted photo

Rey also will perform.

Betty Adams came to Owyhee County with her family after living in Arkansas and Oklahoma.

She was raised in a family of six guided by "southern principles," including no cheating, no lying, no stealing and no cursing. The most important principle was to believe in yourself.

Betty's parents were musical. Her mother played fiddle and banjo, and her father was a skilled fiddler.

Betty's first public performance was at 6 years old, playing a dance with her father. The tradition continued into adulthood for Betty, who learned fiddle from her dad.

Betty's musical career blossomed when she was a teenager.

She sang the gospel music that will be heard next week at many churches in the Treasure Valley and at community events.

She formed her first band, the Southern Gospel Heirs, in 1973. Multi-time fiddle national grand champion Loyd Wanzer was part of the band, and he owned American Heritage Recording Co., in Nashville.

Betty's association with Wanzer led to her recording many albums in Nashville.

A prolific songwriter, one of her compositions reached as high as No. 11 on the country charts.

She has toured the country performing, and she says Monday's concert is another step in passing on her musical legacy to her family and the community.

Staying in shape nearly gets swimmer to State

HHS senior PRs in district meet

Ryker Johnson took the plunge into high school swimming this fall.

The Homedale senior wrapped up his only year of competition last week in the District III meet in Boise.

Swimming as part of the Canyon County Unified cooperative team, the 6-foot, 3-inch athlete just missed qualifying for the state meet in the 100-yard freestyle and finished in the top-10 of the 50 freestyle.

Johnson's mother Sonya said her son made it a goal to swim the 100 freestyle in less than a minute this season.

On Oct. 26 at the West Boise YMCA and Boise City Aquatic Cetner, Johnson finished the 100 in 58.98 seconds. While he reached his goal of breaking the 60-second barrier, he missed a state berth by two spots.

According to his mother, the fastest five times from the district meet qualified for the state meet.

There were no head-to-head finals because of COVID-19. Swimmers competed in heats then their times were ranked.

There were 17 swimmers in the 100 free.

Trojans open playoffs at home again

Top-ranked HHS plays host to South Fremont

Homedale High School's ninth consecutive appearance in the 3A football state playoffs starts against a familiar foe on a familiar field.

No, it's not Sugar-Salem. But if all goes as planned for Matt Holtry's squad Saturday, that rematch could be next in line.

South Fremont, which the Trojans beat last season in the state semifinals, will visit for a Class 3A state quarterfinal at 1 p.m., on Saturday at DeWard Bell Stadium.

"Familiarity is always a good thing, and having an extra week to prepare for them will also play to our advantage as we have been able to get our eyes on them for an extended period of time," Holtry said. "They have some similar tendencies and some familiar faces as we prepare for them."

The Cougars from St. Anthony are led by quarterback Kaime Peebles, who led a furious comeback in last year's semifinals before Mason Strong picked off a pair of passes to seal Homedale's 48-28 victory.

Peebles passed for 224 yards and three touchdowns in last year's matchup. He also ran for a TD, but the Trojans kept him

Wearing his uncle Shane's No. 15, Homedale High School quarterback Jaxon Dines runs for yardage in the conference-clinching win over Weiser earlier this season.

Football is family

Dines honors uncle he never knew

Nearly every day of his career, Jaxon Dines has played his heart out for an uncle he never met.

At the start of the 2021 football season, the Homedale High School junior was able to once again show his respect for Shane Dines to the rest of the world.

After a sophomore season wearing No. 5 and freshman year wearing No. 4, the Trojans' second-year starting quarterback began pulling on the No. 15.

Shane Dines wore No. 15 when he played for Homedale's undefeated 1991 state championship team.

He also wore the jersey number when he played basketball for the Trojans.

Jaxon Dines has been able to wear No. 15 during the basketball season, but the No. 15 football jersey wasn't available for his first full varsity football season.

Wearing the No. 15 is a tribute to a man he knows only through stories and family photographs.

"I never knew him," Jaxon said of his uncle. "I always heard he's a lot like me and really good at sports."

"His number was 15, and I really like the number, too. So I thought I'd wear it for him."

— See Dines, page 6B

Shane died at the age of 23 in a car accident near Riggins on Aug. 13, 1997 — nearly a decade before Jaxon was born. Shane was in the midst of his schooling at the University of Idaho, and he was coaching football and basketball at Genesee High School.

Jaxon Dines is the 16-year-old son of Brad and Erica Dines.

Jaxon wore his uncle's number in Optimist football and middle school, but wasn't able to pull it on as a high school player until this summer.

Scrappy Melba falls short in 2A volleyball state final

Mustangs stumble then win four straight matches

Melba High School stormed through the losers' bracket to finish second in the 2A volleyball state tournament.

The second-seeded Mustangs lost the championship match in three sets to top-seeded West Side at Lakeland High School in Rathdrum.

The Pirates from District V clinched their second consecutive state title with a 25-22, 25-16, 25-11 win over the Mustangs on Saturday afternoon.

"We fought so hard and almost took that first set. I could see we were exhausted as we had played 22 sets at this point," Melba coach Curtis Johnson said. "We as coaches kept challenging them in the huddle as we wanted to get every ounce out of them."

"Our girls came up short, but it was not for a lack of effort or grit. West Side was No. 1 all year for a reason. They played fantastic, and unfortunately we were not able to match their energy or level of play."

West Side beat Bear Lake for the state crown last season. The Pirates have won five championships in the past quarter century, going back-to-back in 1998 and 1999 and picking up the 2011 title.

Melba's journey to the state championship match was a long one after No. 7 West Jefferson pulled off a 14-25, 28-26, 25-21, 25-21 victory in Friday morning's opening round.

Johnson watched as his squad rallied with two victories Friday and then two more on Saturday to reach the tournament final.

Melba's only path to the championship would have been to beat West Side twice, a tall order considering the Pirates from Dayton (24-4) had lost only once in their final 21 matches.

The Mustangs (18-6) knocked off both of the other District III qualifiers in the state tournament on their streak to the state final.

Melba rallied from dropping Games 3-4 against No. 6 Nampa Christian in the third-place match to pull out a 25-22, 25-16, 23-25, 13-25, 15-10 triumph.

The Trojans rallied in Game 3 with Melba five points from winning the match.

"I was thinking that win-

Keylee Wilson was one of Melba's leading offensive players during the state tournament.

ning in three would help us have some energy in the tank for West Side," Johnson said. "Well, NC came roaring back and took that third set. Then they had the momentum and dominated the fourth set."

Melba played — and beat —

Nampa Christian (Johnson's old squad) for the fifth time this season.

"None of us wanted to lose this match and have the seniors go out this way," Johnson said. "Again, with our backs against the wall, our girls found a way to win that match as it took everything they had to do it."

Melba moved into the third-place match with a 25-11, 25-17, 25-20 sweep of No. 8 Declo in which, Johnson said, the Mustangs played their best volleyball of the weekend.

The win came despite Laura Forsgren rolling her ankle.

"Charlize Sharp came in and played amazing, and Tayler McCoy ran a 5-1 like we had been doing it all year," Johnson said.

The Mustangs knocked off 2A Western Idaho Conference regular-season champ Cole Valley Christian, 25-21, 22-25, 25-23, 25-21, in a fierce elimination match. The fifth-seeded Chargers had lost to West Side in the second round.

Keylee Wilson went down with a muscle cramp, pressing senior Erika Hunter into action. Johnson said Hunter rose to the occasion to stuff-block the Chargers' big player, Ellie Fraas.

After losing to West Jefferson, the Mustangs needed five sets to keep their season going with a 20-25, 19-25, 25-19, 25-16, 15-11 loser-out victory over Ririe.

Senior Kylee Dillbeck, playing her best volleyball of the year according to Johnson, delivered 10 of her 30 digs in the third set.

"She also had the ace that won that third set and changed the momentum of the match," the coach said.

"The heart and grit the girls showed on Friday was very impressive and fun to watch," Johnson said. "Most teams would have thrown in the towel down 12-8 in that third set against Ririe."

"I'm very proud of the girls and coaches for finding a way to get it done."

Johnson also pointed out that senior Cali Sjostedt "played amazing as she didn't miss a dig or a pass Friday."

Leading the offense were Wilson, Hallie Arnold, Ella Stosich and Meya Young.

"Melina Helm helps us big with her serve and defense," Johnson said. "Her energy on the bench was second to none."

Wilson leads herd of Mustangs to All-2A WIC distinction

Marsing's only honorees are senior all-star alternates

Melba High School is represented well on the all-conference volleyball team.

No Marsing High School girls received All-2A Western Idaho Conference recognition.

Junior middle blocker Keylee Wilson leads the Mustangs' all-conference clan as Player of the Year.

On the first-team squad are teammates Laura Forsgren (senior), Hallie Arnold (junior) and Ella Stosich (freshman).

A pair of Mustangs made the second team, too: senior Tayler McCoy and junior Meya Young.

Cole Valley Christian's Doug

Keylee Wilson

O'Brien was named Coach of the Year.

The Chargers edged the Mustangs, led for the first time by Curtis Johnson, for the regular-season championship. But the Mustangs rallied to win the district tournament. Both teams competed in the 2A state tournament in Rathdrum during the weekend.

The Mustangs lost the state final to top-seeded West Side after eliminating Cole Valley Christian in the losers' bracket and knocking off Nampa Christian to get to the championship match.

Melba has three players heading to the 3A/2A District III Senior All-Star Game — Forsgren, McCoy, and Kylee Dillbeck.

The Huskies' Emily Thoene and Lexi Loucks are alternates for the annual senior game.

The senior all-star game will be played at 7:30 p.m., on Monday at Parma High School. The 1A game, featuring senior all-stars from the 1A Western Idaho Conference and 1A Long Pin Conference, will be held at 6 p.m.

GFA's Bittick coach of year; Rimrock gets All-1A WIC spots

Raiders' Carothers named senior all-star

A Marsing High School volleyball coach has been named 1A Western Idaho Conference coach of the year.

Loma Bittick led Greenleaf

Friends Academy into the 1A, Div. I state tournament after a runner-up 1A WIC finish.

The Grizzlies finished the season at 14-7 after two losses in Friday's state tournament action at Lewis-Clark State College in Lewiston.

With conference player of the year Hope Miller, a sophomore, leading the way, the Grizzlies' only losses in eight conference matches came against 1A WIC champion Liberty Charter and Idaho City.

Rimrock, coached by Karlee Aquiso, finished fourth in the conference and had two all-conference selections.

Junior Makenzie Magers was a second-team pick for the Raiders, while senior Makayla Carothers received honorable mention.

Carothers will close out her high school volleyball career as a member of the 1A WIC senior all-star squad, which will challenge top upperclassmen from the 1A Long Pin Conference in the 1A District III Senior All-Star Game at 6 p.m., on Monday at Parma High School.

Rounding out the local All-1A WIC roster, Greenleaf's Larry Taylor was named junior varsity coach of the year.

Grizzlies senior Heather Wagner is a first-teamer.

Senior Hannah Ralstin was named to the all-conference second team. She and Wagner have been tabbed to play in the all-star game.

Boren medals, Raiders run to 8th at 1A State

Senior Alamilla closes career with season-best time

Loyd Boren captured the last available 1A cross country state medal for Rimrock High School on Saturday.

The sophomore finished 20th in 17 minutes, 53.95 seconds as the Raiders took eighth in the team rankings at Eagle Island State Park.

“The boys all ran really well,” Rimrock coach Melissa Raymond said. “We had a goal to make it to State. Saturday, they were able to go run that state course and celebrate that accomplishment.”

Ian Stockett, a junior at Nampa’s Victory Charter, won the individual state championship with a run of 15:59.12 over the 5-kilometer course.

The Raiders ended the year in the state meet for the third consecutive season.

Two seniors closed out their Rimrock cross country careers, including Juan Alamilla, who ran his best race of the season.

Alamilla finished 55th in 19:33.09. Fellow senior Victor Lemus was 49th in 19:19.84.

All but one of Rimrock’s seven athletes broke the 22-minute mark, and sophomore Angel Gallardo just missed, finishing 81st in 22:11.14.

“I’m proud of all our runners this season. It takes so much courage and dedication to get out every day and practice in the heat, or cold, or wind, or rain — whatever the day brings,” Raymond said.

“We’re already looking forward to next year.”

There will be plenty of younger runners in camp next fall, too.

Junior Cooper Raymond crossed the finish line 77th in 21:40.77, and his brother — freshman Carson Raymond — was 79th in 21:53.82.

Another 11th-grader, Julio Alamilla, was sandwiched between the Raymond siblings at 21:53.47.

Homedale sophomore 66th in first state meet

Bobby Christensen just missed breaking 19 minutes during Saturday’s 3A cross country state meet.

The Homedale High School sophomore finished 66th in the boys’ five kilometers at Eagle Island State Park in Eagle.

Christensen crossed the finish line at 19 minutes, 17.34 seconds, nearly three minutes behind state champion Keegan McCraw. The Snake River senior broke the tape in 16:19.29.

The lone qualifier for first-year coach David Gummersall’s Trojans, Christensen ran a 19-minute race for the third time this season.

But he couldn’t match his personal record from Oct. 19 when he turned in an 18:15.4 to finish 10th in the 3A District III championship meet. That PR sent him to the state meet in his first prep season.

Christensen competed in middle school, but didn’t see high school trails as a ninth-grader in 2020.

Undefeated Homedale Jr. High team wins title

The Homedale Junior High School eighth grade football team capped an undefeated season last month with a championship game against Vale Junior High School which it beat 28-0.

The young Trojans coached by Dennis Ankeny, David Hann and Jason Cagle, recorded wins over Parma 54-14, Nampa Christian 46-16, Nyssa 54-28, Melba 20-12 and Rimrock 28-12.

The win over Vale was the young Trojans' first shutout of the season, according to Ankeny. The Homedale team scored in each of the four quarters.

"The team used its speed in the backfield, size and quickness on the line to have a strong running game and used the passing game for some big plays," Ankeny said.

Fire District override levy passes by 86%

By an overwhelming margin of 86 percent, voters in the Homedale Rural Fire Protection District approved a two-year override levy Tuesday.

TERESA JOHNSON, a senior, was crowned "Homecoming Queen of 1971" of Homedale High School. She was selected by a student body vote and was announced winner during coronation ceremonies prior to the Homedale-Vallivue Homecoming game. Performing the coronation honors was Joe Ojeda. Miss Johnson was presented with a dozen long-stemmed roses. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Johnson.

Trojans face Huskies here with record at stake

The Homedale Trojans will round out a highly successful 10-game gridiron season here Friday night against Marsing, hoping to retain their unblemished record, which is 9-0 to date.

The Trojans took home all the pre-Halloween treats Friday night at Kuna as they exploded for five long-yardage scores to torment the Kavemen 34-8.

The Kavemen held their own in great style other than the five Homedale scoring efforts. The hard-hitting Black and Gold pounded for a total of 164 yards on the ground while the Trojans gathered in 136. The hometowners totaled 78 yards through the air to the Owyhee boys' 110.

Ray Garcia was the first to spook the Kavemen, taking the opening kickoff and galloped 60 yards to put the Trojans in scoring position on the Kavemen 15. Four plays later fire-footed Kirk Haylett went in from the four.

Alan Echevarria, Trojan signal-caller, went to work and reached into his bag of tricks and found Greg Haylett on a 47-yard aerial and minutes later connected with Mike Hyer for a 23-yard touchdown to close out the half at 22-8.

Kuna mentor Dick Kellum would have undoubtedly liked to beat big brother, Ken Kellum, but was still very proud of his boys after the contest.

Post-season football playoff brings Shoshone here

A postseason play-off football game will be played at 2 p.m. Saturday, Nov. 13, between the Homedale Trojans, winners of the Southwest Idaho conference, and Shoshone, co-champions (with Wendell and Glens Ferry) of the Little 5 league.

The contest is billed as a play-off game, and is a step instituted by the Interscholastic Activities Association as a possible forerunner to eventually holding a statewide playoff in football.

The same basic ticket charge of 75 cents for students and $1.25 for adults will prevail.

Mayor Murray re-elected; Metzger, Jackson win

Homedale voters cast 283 ballots in the city's two precincts Tuesday and re-elected Mayor George Murray, who was unopposed. Murray received 236 votes for a 4-year term.

Elected to 4-year terms on the city council were Kenne Metzger, incumbent, and Jay Ray Jackson. Metzger received 219 votes and Jackson 108 votes.

PURSUANT to call, a meeting of the members of the Union Church Society was held at the church building on Sunday afternoon, the 28th last. A statement was made by M. H. B. Styles, Chairman of Board of Trustees, showing the financial condition of the Society, which was duly accepted and his action endorsed.

Resolutions expressing appreciation of and thankful for the services of the Rev. Leander Case as pastor, as well as regret at the necessity of his severing his connection with the Society were adopted by the Board of Trustees and presented.

Resolutions of thanks to the proprietors of the OWYHEE AVALANCHE for favors extended to the Society during the past year were adopted and ordered to be entered in full on the Secretary's book.

On motion of Mr. Styles, the number of Trustees was increased from five to seven, and an election was gone into with the following result: Trustees for the year ending November 1st, 1867: M. H. R. Styles, J. K. Eastman, Wm. H. Davenport, C. W. Moore, John Wasson, W. B. Crane and Geo. Carter.

The new Board of Trustees went into an election for officers. Capt. Styles declining re-election as President owing to his contemplated absence in the States, Judge Wm. H. Davenport was chosen as his successor. J. K. Eastman was re-elected Treasurer and W. B. Crane was chosen Secretary.

Business of importance was transacted and much good feeling existed and was evinced at the success of the Church Society.

Remarks complimentary to the pastor, Rev. L. Case, were made by several gentlemen present, and the many wishes for his future welfare and happiness were sincere and heartfelt.

IDAHO FREIGHT.—When the freighting season opened last Spring the shipment of goods to Idaho from this city by way of the Truckee and Humboldt route was an untried experiment. One or two trains were fitted out and took their departure early in the season. Their remarkable success in getting through an untraveled country and making a considerable portion of the road as they advanced induced other team-owners to follow suit, and late in the season a considerable quantity of freight was shipped at rates much lower than they could be obtained by the Owyhee merchants over any other route. The latest shipments did not exceed in cost ten cents per pound from this city, while goods sent by way of the Columbia River cost the merchant sixteen cents per pound. Contracts were made also to deliver freight at Silver City and Ruby City in thirty days, while a great portion of the freight that went by way of Oregon required sixty days to reach its destination. Whitney & Co. alone forwarded by way of Alta and the Big Bend of the Truckee, during the month of September, the following shipments: By Keiser & Pritchard (thirteen teams,) 135,647 pounds; by Glenn, Biggs & Wilson (sixteen teams,) 158,458 pounds; by W. Brady (two teams,) 20,329 pounds; by Jones & Shaw (four teams,) 41,026 pounds; by W. W. Schotz (two teams,) 22,474 pounds; and by W. Ash (five teams,) 50,800 pounds. Total number of teams, forty-four. Total amount of freight, 428,724 pounds, or over 214 tons. It is confidently believed that by next year the greater portion of the Idaho freight will pass over this route.—Sacramento Union Oct. 20th.

HMS 8th-grade girls start basketball season unbeaten

B team splits first basketball games

The Homedale Middle School eighth-grade girls' basketball teams hit the ground running last week in the 3A Snake River Valley conference. The A squad coached by Benji Sorenson swept its first games, while Mike Frank's B team split a pair of road games.

A team

Last Wednesday: Homedale 33, Weiser 13 — The team that won the seventh-grade championship a year ago held Weiser scoreless in the first period and built a 14-0 lead. The Wolverines finished third in the 2020 seventh-grade tournament, and Homedale challenged them a day after opening the season with a win over last season's runner-up, Fruitland, on another road trip. "I was proud of how our girls handled the difficult schedule," Sorenson said. "We got out to a fast start with a combination of good defense and opportunistic offense." Homedale's defense held Weiser to 4-for-34 field-goal shooting (11.7 percent). "Playing the second of a back-to-back can be tough, but I was, for the most part, pleased with the defensive effort," Sorenson said. Homedale (2-0) posted a balanced offensive attack as every player got into the scoring column. Belen Asumendi, Stephanie Quezada and Kierstley Roseborough led the Trojans with six points apiece. "Bailey Hymas pulled down a team-high nine rebounds and provided a real energy spark for Homedale off the bench," Sorenson said. Asumendi led the defensive effort with eight steals, and Karlie Kildow was dominant with five steals and two blocked shots. Roseborough also swatted away a couple Weiser shots. Oct. 26: Homedale 48, Fruitland 37 — The season opener was a rematch of last year's seventh-grade conference championship game, and the Trojans used transition defense to get the win. "It was a gritty effort, relying on tough defense that led to easy baskets on the offensive end," Sorenson said. The Trojans used defensive intensity to take control of the game after a 10-10 first-quarter tie. The Grizzlies couldn't manage a field goal and hit only foul shots over the final eight minutes of the first half, and Homedale built a 21-13 lead at the break. Asumendi (11 steals) and Stella Heck and Quezada (four steals apiece) led a pressing defense the full-court pressure of which rarely allowed Fruitland's ball-handler across half-court. Although Homedale extended the lead to 11 points to start the second half, Fruitland pulled to within three points, 34-31, with just over six minutes to play after an 8-0 run. "Fruitland had the momentum at that point and their home fans were getting loud, but I was extremely proud of the way the girls responded," Sorenson said. After the Grizzlies' spurt, Homedale launched a rally of its own. On back-to-back possessions, Roseborough scored on a driving step-through layup and Heck hit a clutch straight-away three-pointer to ignite a 9-0 run that quieted the crowd. Kynna Soland-Pfeil's 17-foot jump shot with four minutes left capped the run and stretched Homedale's lead to 12 points, 43-31. "The girls did a great job of closing out the rest of the game keeping Fruitland at bay to finish off the 11-point victory," Sorenson said. Roseborough shot 6-for-9 from the field and scored a team-high 14 points. Asumendi scored 11 points, and with her double-digit steals, forged the team's first double-double of the season. She added four assists. Heck also chipped in nine points. Roseborough and fellow post, Tiana Sorenson pulled down eight rebounds apiece, while Sorenson had two blocked shots. B team Last Wednesday: Homedale 28, Weiser 6 — Like the A team, the Trojans' B squad held the Wolverines scoreless in the first quarter while building an 8-0 lead. Breydyn Ford erupted for 24 points while Mila Binford and Avery Ross added two each. Oct. 26: Fruitland 30, Homedale 17 — A 10-0 run through the fourth quarter wasn't enough to spark a Trojans comeback on the Grizzlies' floor. Homedale trailed, 22-4, at halftime, and Fruitland held an 8-3 edge in the third quarter. Ava Wilson led Homedale with eight points, and Ford added six.

Two Melba girls collect medals at 2A cross country State

An Owyhee County classman won one of two state meet medals for Melba High School girls' cross country. The Melba girls placed fourth in the team competition. Three athletes were running their final meets for Melba. Mazie Hansen (40th), Lacey Leavitt (44th) and Daisee Crossley (63rd) are all seniors. Hanzen crossed the line at 21:53.71, while Leavitt was clocked at 22:03.83, and Crossley ran a 24:58.62. Junior Braelyn Scott took 43rd in 22:02.38, and sophomore Jaycie Hackler was 51st in 23:13.22.

Manzer the younger gets Mustangs' only medal at boys' meet

The sophomore finished 20th — the final spot for a medal — with a time of 17 minutes, 38.83 seconds over five kilometers at Eagle Island State Park. All the Mustangs' runners finished in the top 90, and Melba was eighth in the team standings. Fellow District III athlete Grady Mylander, a Nampa Christian senior, won the state championship in a time of 15:15.77. Ravio's brother Reuben, a senior, was 30th in 18:13.26. Owyhee County athlete McKoy Richardson ran to 51st place. The junior finished the course in 18:47.75. Freshman Carsten Volkers was one spot ahead of Richardson, taking 50th in 18:46.65. Junior Grant Svedin took 67th in 20:00.84, and sophomores Remington Sessions (20:07.71) and Jonny Gunderson (21:58.65) were 68th and 81st, respectively.

Top scholar-athletes announced

Several Owyheean make 2A grade

Owyhee County was well represented in the fall sports all-academic list for the 2A Western Idaho Conference. Athletes placed on the all-academic roster maintained a 3.75 grade-point average during the varsity season for their respective sport. Marsing High School's volleyball team claimed one of the highest numbers of scholar-athletes from a single squad, including Mila Astorquia, Lexi Loucks, Abby Percifield, Emily Thoene, Lily Thoene, and

Emily Vanosdall. Alex Christiansen and Jack Marshall made the grade from the Huskies' boys' cross country team. Owyhee County's McKoy Richardson and Brooklyn Dayley, both cross country athletes, were among the Melba students on the all-academic list. Five Melba football players made the list while reaching the 2A state playoffs. The No. 8 Mustangs played host to No. 9 West Jefferson on Friday in an opening-round game. Coach Juan Colunga's all-academic players include Cody Dickard, Korey Magdaleno, Brendan Svetich, Troy Theobald, and Josh Waite. Melba's volleyball squad, brought home a state tournament second-place trophy Saturday, counted Hallie Arnold, Kendall Clark, Laura Forsgren, Melina Helm, Erika Hunter, and Charlize Sharp on the scholar-athlete list. The rest of the Mustangs' cross country all-academic sports went to boys Jonathan (Jonny) Gunderson and Grant Svedin, and girls Rozzlyn Cazier, Jaycie Hackler, Josie Hansen, Mazie Hansen, Lacey Leavitt, and Bradie Rose-Carter.

bottled up on the ground for the most part.

Peebles’ favorite target, Easton Kerbs, caught five passes for 86 yards, but it was big tight end Tag Bair who had all three TD receptions — his only targets — and 46 yards. Bair has graduated, but the shifty Kerbs is back along with 6-foot, 3-inch Cooper Hurt and 6-4 Mason Siddoway.

“They have a great quarter-back returning from last year and some solid wide receivers to get the ball to,” Holtry said. “They are a dangerous team that can score in a hurry if you are not prepared for them.”

Then-HHS junior Hayden Kincheloe, who was nursing a torn labrum, rushed for a career-high 348 yards and four touchdowns in last year’s showdown.

Top seed and top-ranked Homedale (9-0) looks to extend its 28-game home winning streak Saturday.

The Trojans haven’t lost at home since a 49-7 setback to Fruitland on Sept. 30, 2016.

Eighth-seeded South Fremont (5-4) moved into the state quarterfinals with a narrow 35-30 win over Kellogg.

“They have had a tough schedule this year and have lost a couple of close games or they would have been a 7-2 or 8-1 type of team,” Holtry said of the Cougars.

“Their record is deceiving, and it will be a good game come Saturday.”

Coached by Chad Hill, South Fremont finished second to Sugar-Salem in the 3A Mountain Rivers Conference this season (District VI). The team has two consecutive wins after enduring a four-game losing streak.

For Homedale, a win Saturday could create a rematch with three-time reigning state champion Sugar-Salem. The fourth-seeded Diggers take on No. 5 Marsh Valley in another quarterfinal at 7 p.m., on Thursday at Holt Arena in Pocatello.

“The reality is in the playoffs you only have the game in front of you. You lose and you are out,” Holtry said.

“So there is no looking ahead right now for our kids. It is about South Fremont and winning this Saturday at 1 o’clock.”

A victory Saturday would also put Holtry, who is in his 13th season at the helm, in a tie for second place on Homedale’s all-time victories list.

Holtry has a 91-37 career record with HHS, and beating South Fremont would give him a share of second place all-time with Daryl Kellum, who went 92-13 from 1973 to 1981. Jim Macmillan is the program’s winningest coach with 125 victories between 1982 and 1994.

Holtry tied Kellum for a record nine winning seasons this year.

The Trojans’ 35-0 victory over Fruitland on Oct. 22 marked the program’s 500th victory since Deward Bell — the father of the modern football program — took over in 1955. The program has 542 victories since 1939.

Holtry said the Trojans are in relatively good health after nine games this season.

“We feel good about where we are at currently. Obviously when you get to the end of the season you are always going to have an injury here or there that you will be dealing with,” Holtry said.

“All things considered, we feel that we are in a good position health-wise. Each week in the playoffs can serve as that much better health for us, too.”

There will be no walk-up ticket sales for Saturday’s game at Deward Bell Stadium, HHS athletic director Casey Grove announced during the weekend.

All tickets must be purchased through the GoFan website or phone app.

The only passes that will be honored Saturday are Idaho High School Activities Association coaches’ passes or an IHSAA lifetime pass.

36-24 win over Caldwell on Aug. 27. He completed nine of 11 passes for 147 yards and two touchdowns. He also racked up 50 yards on nine rushes and made three solo tackles on defense.

Jaxon has continued to bring glory to his uncle’s jersey number, leading the Trojans to a 9-0 record, the top ranking among the state’s Class 3A teams and the top seed in the state playoffs.

The team begins its quest for a fourth consecutive Milk

Bowl state championship game appearance — and the second with Jaxon running the show — on Saturday at home.

“I feel really good right now,” he said. “We have a really good chemistry between the team, and we’re really motivated to win this year because we didn’t win last year.”

Another family tie crops up every game day at Deward Bell Stadium. Jaxon’s half-brother, Riley, calls his name and number throughout games as a public address announcer.

“I think it’s kind of neat,”

Jaxon said. “He coached my middle school and JV teams.

“He’s always been a big help. I can talk to him about anything about football.”

Jaxon thinks his game has improved during his second season as starting quarterback.

“I think I’ve gotten a lot better throwing the ball,” he said. “I’m becoming smarter at quarterback and learning new stuff every day.”

He credits the tutelage of head coach Matt Holtry and assistant coaches Tony and Darren Uranga.

“Darren has helped me a lot,” he said. “Probably the most out of everyone.”

Holtry helps Jaxon develop his skill to read defenses, while the Uranga brothers cover the mechanics of throwing.

Tony was a teammate of Jaxon’s uncle, and they won back-to-back state titles, the quarterback said.

But anyone who turns out for a Trojans game gets the sense that Jaxon’s first love is running the ball.

“I think I have a lot more confidence this year plus the (offensive) line gives me a lot of holes to run through,” Jaxon said.

In the read option offense, Jaxon says he feels more freedom, but also understands structure.

And, as much as he loves to run, he’s a team player.

“Whatever the team needs to win,” he said.

“I like to run, too. I’ve always been a running quarterback my whole life.”

Jordan Valley’s volleyball season ends in Medford

Seniors earn all-district tourney first-team

The Jordan Valley High School volleyball season ended Saturday in the second round of the 1A Oregon state playoffs.

The No. 11 seed Mustangs entered the playoffs short-handed. The school’s FFA chapter was at the national convention in Indianapolis, and that reduced the volleyball team’s roster to six players.

Jordan Valley (13-6) fell to No. 6 Rogue Valley Adventist Academy in Medford, Ore.

The Hawks (21-2) broke a stalemate after two sets for a 25-18, 18-25, 25-16, 25-17 victory.

The 1A District 5 champion, Rogue Valley Adventist played No. 3 Damascus Christian on Tuesday after deadline with a spot in the 1A Oregon state tournament on the line.

Game 2 after an eight-hour bus ride. But Jordan Valley was derailed by mistakes later in the match.

“Even though we fell short of making the tournament, we grew as a team and made it much further than many of our opponents thought we could because of our low head count for the team,” Kelsey Gluch said after the loss.

Last Wednesday: Jordan Valley def. Imbler, 3-0 — Kelsey Gluch was a force at the net with nine kills and four blocks in the Mustangs’ first-round state playoff victory, 25-10, 25-16, 25-15, against the 14th-seeded Panthers.

Gluch also had four digs and served an ace.

Fellow seniors Tayler Eiguren and Cassity Gluch also contributed.

Cassity Gluch served four aces, and picked up most of her seven kills from the back row. She also notched seven digs and five blocks.

Eiguren led the team with seven blocks and also came through with five kills, three digs and an ace serve.

Three other Mustangs — Jill Gammett, Kyndra Williams, and Meg Eiguren — added seven kills, three digs and three aces.

“They definitely underestimated us, there was 16 of them and only six of us,” Cassity Gluch said.

Jordan Valley qualified for the state playoffs with a runner-up finish in the 1A District 8 Tournament on Oct. 23 in Prairie City.

The Mustangs lost the district championship match, but earned a spot in the state playoffs by virtue of their victory over archrival Adrian in the district semifinals in Prairie City, Ore.

After the district final, Mustangs Tayler Eiguren, Kelsey Gluch and Cassity Gluch were named to the all-tournament first team.

Those three girls also enjoyed Senior Night on Oct. 20, playing their final regular-season match at home in a 24-26, 25-23, 23-25, 28-26 shootout victory against Crane.

Fittingly, Cassity Gluch knocked down the match’s final point with a kill. She finished with eight kills, four blocks, four digs and one ace.

Kelsey Gluch’s final regular-season match featured six kills, three blocks, nine digs and an ace.

Tayler Eiguren was a force on defense with 10 blocks and five digs to go with four kills.

Other statistics from the final regular-season home match included:

- Gammett — Seven digs
- Meg Eiguren — Six digs and a kill
- Claire Collins served an ace
- Williams — a kill and a dig

Adrian’s unbeaten football team enters 1A Oregon playoffs

Adrian High School’s top-seeded football team opens the 1A Oregon state playoffs this weekend.

The Antelopes (9-0) will play host to No. 16 seed Imbler (4-5) on Friday at Ward Field.

Adrian earned a spot in the state tournament with Friday’s 62-6 district playoff victory over Dufur at Eastern Oregon University in LaGrande, Ore.

Two of Adrian’s wins this season were forfeits against Wallowa on Sept. 17 and Elgin on Oct. 15.

The Antelopes throttled Imbler, 50-0, in a non-league game on Sept. 24 in Adrian.

Cross country

The season ended Friday for Adrian’s cross country athletes

Nunez finished 12th in a personal-best time of 21 minutes, 55 seconds.

Wagster ran her fastest 5-kilometer race of the season at 7th Street Park in John Day, Ore. She was 47th in 26:07.

Neither athlete was able to qualify for the state meet.

Volleyball

The Antelopes lost the third-place match in the 1A District 8 Tournament, but placed three girls on the all-tournament roster.

Addy Martin, a freshman outside hitter, sophomore setter Presley Speelmon, and sophomore middle blocker Lucy Martin were second-teamers.

Thousands of trout planted at C.J.

Fall fishing just got better at C.J. Strike Reservoir.

Idaho Power recently stocked the man-made reservoir near Bruneau with more than 50,000 pan-sized trout.

The planting, which took place late last month, is part of a plan to add more than 70,000 fish at four fishing spots Idaho Power manages along the Snake River.

“Our twice-annual trout releases are always popular with folks who enjoy fishing the Snake River,” Idaho Power resource professional Tracy Richter said.

“We enjoy providing this recreational opportunity, and the feedback we get from anglers is an important tool that we use for future stocking events.”

During the annual fall stocking, Idaho Power tankers were used to place 52,250 trout in C.J. Strike Reservoir, splitting the stocking between the Jacks Creek and Cottonwood access areas.

Anglers at C.J. Strike Reservoir should be aware that the fish cleaning station there is now closed for the season.

Water is also shut off at the C.J. Strike camping spots, although fall camping is still available.

Idaho Power will stock more fisheries, too:

- American Falls Reservoir — 8,000 fish in early November
- Bell Rapids sportsman’s access area — 15,000 fish
- Centennial Park below Twin Falls — 4,000 fish

Some of the fish released at Centennial Park and Bell Rapids have jaw tags. Anglers who report catching one of these tagged fish will have their names entered in an annual drawing to win $1,000.

Reporting tags helps the company evaluate the success of its annual stocking effort, which also includes a spring release. Idaho Power’s federal licenses to operate hydroelectric facilities on the Snake River require the company to provide recreational opportunities for the public.

The fish released by Idaho Power were raised in the Hagerman Valley and average about 12 inches long.

Anglers who catch a jaw-tagged fish should note the tag number, the date the fish was caught, the location and whether the fish was released. Call (800) 388-6011 to be eligible for the drawing.

The Trust Deed was recorded in Owyhee County, Idaho, on August 14, 2017, as Instrument No. 293484, and corrected pursuant to the Affidavit recorded on September 29, 2021, as Instrument No. 309649, of Official Records. In the event that all defaults are cured the foreclosure will be dismissed and the foreclosure sale will be canceled. The scheduled Trustee’s Sale may be postponed by public proclamation up to 30 days for any reason. If the Trustee is unable to convey title for any reason, the successful bidder’s sole and exclusive remedy shall be the return of monies paid to the Successor Trustee and the successful bidder shall have no further recourse. The above Trustors are named to comply with IRC § 45-1506(4) (a). No representation is made that they are, or are not, presently responsible for this obligation. ## ✓ Swimmer: Change of pace from cross country

Johnson, 18, finished ninth in the 50 free in 25.82 seconds. His mother said that was near his personal-best time in that event, but it placed him near the middle of the pack among 20 district swimmers.

Johnson’s father is Karlin.

Johnson is better known to most HHS sports fans for his exploits in track and field.

But during a summer life-guard gig at the Caldwell YMCA, Johnson said his friends convinced him to give swimming a try this fall.

“Everyone (working at the YMCA) is on the team,” Johnson said. “I didn’t feel like running cross country, so they said, ‘Try out for the swim team.’”

Kamie Christiansen is the coach of the CCU, which incorporates swimmers from Vallivue, Ridgevue, Middleton, Vision Charter, and Homedale.

“I learned a lot,” Johnson said of his one and only season of competitive swimming. “I never did any of the strokes before.”

During the course of the season, Johnson said he dropped five seconds off his time in the 50 freestyle and improved his time in the 100 freestyle by 10 seconds.

Even though this was Johnson’s only competitive season in swimming, he wasn’t a fish out of water by any means.

He has spent the past few summers training for triathlons and the 1-mile swimming leg.

Now, he’s looking forward to getting back on dry land.

“This was it. I’m looking to move on to track now,” he said.

But he hopes the fall of swimming will lift him up for the track and field season.

“It was good to stay in shape,” he said. “I made a lot of friends, and they want to keep working out over the winter.”

Three HHS underclassmen named All-3A SRV

Larzelier, Swallow are senior all-stars

Four Homedale High School volleyball players landed on the All-3A Snake River Valley conference team.

Only one of those athletes — honorable mention middle blocker Laney Swallow — is a senior.

Junior middle blocker Jacy Parker, whose season ended in the team’s final regular-season home match, is the lone second-team selection for coach Heidi Nash’s squad.

Parker led the team with 123 kills and 32 blocks. Her kill percentage was 26.5 percent.

Nash said kill percentage indicates

The volleyball season will be celebrated at 7 p.m., on Thursday inside the HHS cafeteria when the year-end banquet is held.

how often a player turns the ball into a kill, and the junior knocked down 123 of 464 attempts during the season.

Honorable mention outside hitter Katie Christoffersen was second on the Trojans with 36 aces. The junior also had 88 kills and led the defense with 198 digs.

Zayne Hall, an honorable mention selection at opposite side hitter, posted a kill percentage of 25.1 percent, finishing with 55 kills. The sophomore served 22 aces and had the second-highest serve efficiency on the team at .061. On defense, she had 13 blocks and 65 digs.

In addition to her honorable mention nod, Swallow will join fellow senior teammate Belisia Larzelier on the Class 3A all-star team.

The District III 2A/3A All-Star Game takes place at 7:30 p.m., on Monday at Parma High School. Rena Sitz, who coached Fruitland to the district championship, will coach the 3A all-stars.

Swallow fired 100 kills during the season and led the team from the service line. She ripped 38 aces and was on the line for 132 points. She also had a kill percentage of 24.2 percent. Her 28 blocks were second-highest on the squad.

Larzelier led the team in serve receive with a 1.7, and she was among the top servers with a 92 percent serve-in percentage and a team-high serve efficiency of .076.

Larzelier had 143 digs on defense.

Nash said serve receive is based on how well a player passes the ball when the opponent serves. Players are graded on a scale of 1 to 3 from a shanked pass or ace (0) to a perfect pass (3).

Serve efficiency gauges how difficult a player serves the ball as well as how often the ball is put in play. The ratio divides aces and errors by serving attempts.

Sal Mattivi

Mattivi makes rare Marsing State bid

Sal Mattivi, making Marsing High School’s first foray into a state meet in seven years, finished in the middle of the pack.

The sophomore finished 45th in a field of 76 girls during a 5-kilometer 2A girls’ state cross country final at Eagle Island State Park on Saturday.

Mattivi crossed the finish line at 22 minutes, 8.6 seconds.

Her time was more than 19 seconds slower than her personal record (21:49) but more than three minutes faster than her best (23:52.4) from her freshman season.

Mattivi is the first Huskies runner to compete in the state meet since 2015 when Landry Villa ran in the boys’ race.

Keep informed.
