Deputies were serving civil papers at time of shooting

Charles Castro

The wife of a Murphy man who died after charging sheriff’s deputies with a weapon had filed for a civil protection order the Friday before.

Two Owyhee County Sheriff’s deputies visited a Rim Rock Lane residence north of the Murphy air strip on Jan. 3 to serve the order on Charles Corey Castro.

Dispatch logs list an agency assist call beginning at around 1:30 p.m., on Rim Rock Lane.

According to a release from the Canyon County Sheriff’s Office, Castro became agitated and charged deputies with a weapon.

The 54-year-old man died at the scene when, shortly before 3:30 p.m., the deputies opened fire after Castro ignored warnings to drop his weapon, according to a Canyon County Sheriff’s Office press release.

Officials haven’t released what type of weapon Castro possessed.

Sheriff’s Lt. Chuck Gentry is heading up the Critical Incident Task Force (CITF) investigation into the deputy-involved shooting. Gentry and Chief Deputy Marv Dashiell flanked Sheriff Kieran Donahue during an afternoon press conference on Jan 4 inside the Canyon County Administrative Building in Caldwell.

Owyhee County Sheriff Perry Grant wasn’t present for the press conference. Donahue said he gave Grant the opportunity to attend but knew that the elected official had a previously scheduled meeting

Hyping the Huskies crowd

Marsing High School music director Dawn Sandmeyer (standing with trumpet) cues the pep band to wrap up a song during a break in the action at the girls’ basketball game between Marsing and Melba on Thursday. According to a game program, band members throughout the season could include: Flute: Audrey Adams, Grace Clay, and Jackie Moreno; Trumpet: Maizy Little, Jack Marshall, Heston McIntyre, Lazarus Sevy, and Trinity Stimmel; Percussion: Samuel Withers (drums), Lily Gluch and Zachary Trevett (glockenspiel), and Bella Archer, Wolfe Buzzard, Soyla Contreras, Nathan Delaney, Erika Frazier, Zak Patterson, and Jesse Tuttle; Clarinet: Sophia Adams, Angel Ayala, Emily Richling, and Indigo Fray; Saxophone: Shea Jensen and Tyson Campbell; Trombone: Tim Christiansen, Xavier Linker, Elliot Little, and Sky Mattivi; Tuba: Tommy O’Donnell; and Electric bass: Valentin Vasquez.

City elected officials take oaths of office

All three councils to welcome new members

New councilpersons will begin four-year terms today in Owyhee County’s municipalities.

Elected officials set to take the oath of office during city council meetings in Homedale, Marsing and Grand View are a mix of incumbents, appointees turned incumbents and newcomers.

And, in one case, a new councilperson is returning to the board on which she served before

Meeting to outline TRHS plans for Homedale clinic

Expanded, modernized $2.5M building slated

After more than 40 years in its downtown Homedale location, the Terry Reilly Health Services clinic is getting a major overhaul.

The community will have a chance to see what changes are planned at a public meeting set for next Wednesday.

The meeting will take place from 3:30 p.m., to 4:30 p.m., inside the clinic, 110 E. Idaho Ave.

Owyhee Gardeners schedule first meeting of the new year

The first Owyhee Gardeners meeting of the year, which is open to the public, will address how folks can grow orchids in the local climate.

Cathy Cox, a University of Idaho Master Gardener, will be the guest speaker. The meeting is scheduled for 1 p.m., on Thursday. She'll address the care of orchids.

The meeting is held on the second Thursday of every month inside the Sandbar Community Room at Marsing City Hall, 18 Sandbar Ave.

Deputy shortage could hinder start of Marsing law enforcement pact

The Marsing City Council is poised to accept a new law enforcement contract from Owyhee County.

But even if the council ratifies the contract at today's meeting, dedicated patrols in the city limits may not begin immediately.

The city council meeting begins at 7 p.m., inside the Sandbar Community Room at City Hall, 18 Sandbar Ave.

County commissioners unanimously ratified the contract on Dec. 27.

But County Clerk Angie Barkell reports that during that meeting Sheriff Perry Grant said the contract may not start until he is able to shore up his depleted staff of patrol deputies with another hire.

In the meantime, the city and county has been working on a month-to-month basis for law enforcement.

Under the new contract, the city would pay $75,866.64 for the fiscal year. But the price will be prorated from the start date of the contract to Sept. 30 for FY 2021.

The Marsing deputy will work approximately 42 hours per week, not including work as school resource officer. Mayor Chad Sevy will approve which deputy is selected to patrol the city, and will meet with the deputy at least weekly.

The patrol vehicle will have decals of both the county and the City of Marsing.

The City of Marsing will be held harmless if any lawsuits arise from the actions of the deputy.

The protection provided under the contract comes in conjunction with other sheriff's office duties in the county, and the contract doesn't infer the deputy will always be in the city.

The contract also calls for deputies to attempt to apprehend at-large dogs until a city worker can take possession of the animals.

Fines and forfeitures from infractions and misdemeanors prosecuted in magistrate court will go into the city's coffers.

Voting on the contract is scheduled for the tail end of Mayor Chad Sevy's report near the end of the meeting.

- Brandy Johnson and Elizabeth Wahl will take the oath of office to sit on the city council, and Wahl will succeed Rachael Percifield.
- During his report to the council, city engineer Kirby Cook of Civil Dynamics will discuss recent mapping of the city's water and sewer lines as well as provide an update on the wastewater treatment plant.
- City attorney Stephanie J. Bonney from MSBT Law will lead a discussion about employees using city vehicles.
- OCSO Deputy Travis Leedom will discuss calls for service and citations in the past month.
- Code enforcement officer Seth Wahl will give an update on ordinance issues and also talk about collaboration with the sheriff's office.
- Public works superintendent Ryan Flannery will brief the council on projects completed in the past month and what to expect in the next four weeks.

The council will be asked to vote on installing a heating system for the city shop on 8th Avenue West and to accept a bid from Dr. Pipeline to continue cleaning and inspection of the city's sewer collection system.

- In addition to a business license, two alcohol licenses, and discussion on disconnecting water service to three addresses, Sevy's report will include possible action to close 2nd Street North on Feb. 19 for the annual Marsing Firemen's Crab Feed.

Property could change hands at Homedale council meeting

in wastewater project planned

Surplus property is a main topic of discussion for tonight’s Homedale City Council meeting.

Before new councilperson Kim Murray takes the oath of office, the current council — Mike Aebischer, Jerry Anderson, Steve Atkins, and Aaron Tines — will discuss the final steps of selling two pieces of city-owned property.

City officials opened bids last month in the auction of property at 503 E. Owyhee Ave., and a vacated portion of West Nevada Avenue.

Once decisions are made on those issues, Murray will succeed Anderson the council to start her four-year term.

Aebischer and Mayor Gheen Christoffersen also will be sworn in.

The council also will be reorganized with a new board president selected.

The meeting starts at 6 p.m., inside City Hall, 31 W. Wyoming Ave.

The council will hear a request from Police Chief Jeff Eidemiller to surplus a 2007 Ford F-150 pickup that currently is used as an animal control/code enforcement vehicle.

During the December meeting, Eidemiller said he has the opportunity to buy an animal control vehicle with a kennel for transporting animals. The department’s current pickup doesn’t have that feature.

Public works supervisor Bret Smith also has discussed the council declaring a 1997 John Deere F925 mower with a 72-inch deck as surplus. The elected officials will consider that request formally tonight.

There is a long list of infrastructure issues that city engineer Andrew Kimmel from Great West Engineering will discuss, including:

- An update on the wastewater lagoon and transmission system project
- Wastewater equipment pre-selection bids and scoring, which is part of the process to start the multimillion-dollar reconstruction project
- The presentation of quotes for the construction of a lift station at the Riverside RV park
- A request from Owyhee Meat Co., to connect to city services will be discussed.

The wastewater issues, including the lift station quote, are all subject to council action.

Not all schoolchildren will get Martin Luther King Jr. Day off

Monday is a federal holiday for most

Monday is Martin Luther King Jr. Day, and government offices throughout Owyhee country will be closed.

School closures vary by district: Marsing and Bruneau-Grand View schoolchildren will be in class, while students in Homedale, Jordan Valley and Adrian schools will be home.

The Owyhee County Courthouse and county satellite offices in Marsing and Grand View are closed Monday.

City halls in Homedale, Marsing and Grand View are closed, too.

Police and sheriff, fire and emergency medical services will be available, and the Owyhee County Sheriff's dispatch center will be operating as usual.

The Gypsy Jackson Memorial Library in Homedale and the Lizard Butte Library in Marsing will be open regular hours.

Eastern Owyhee County Library in Grand View and Bruneau Valley Library are closed. The Bruneau library is only open on Wednesdays and Thursdays.

Both the Homedale Senior Center and the Rimrock Senior Center in Grand View are always closed on Mondays.

No congregate luncheon will be served at the Sandbar Community Room inside Marsing City Hall.

All U.S. post offices and US Bank in Homedale are closed.

Observing regular schedules are:

- Republic Services garbage pick-up
- Albertsons in Homedale and the Sav-On Pharmacy inside the grocery store
- Homedale Drug and its liquor store
- M & W Market in Marsing and its liquor store

Appointments now required for foot clinics

The popularity of foot clinics has forced changes in the service, Homedale Senior Center coordinator Sandra Ledford said.

The first monthly foot clinic of 2022 is scheduled for Tuesday at the senior center, 224 W. Idaho Ave.

The first appointment slot is 8:30 a.m., and ear cleanings also will be available.

Foot examinations cost $20, and ear cleanings cost $15.

Ledford said that appointments are now necessary. Call (208) 337-3020 to make a reservation.

The clinics will now be monthly because of the demand for the service, she added.

Going forward, the clinic will be held on the third Tuesday of every month.

The center is open from 8 a.m. to 2 p.m., on Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday each week.

Congregate meals are served each day the center is open, and curbside pick-up of meals is still available. Call ahead to order your lunch.

Before lunch every Tuesday and Thursday, the Fit and Fall class takes place from 10:30 a.m. to 11:30 a.m.

The thrift store is open from 8 a.m. to 1 p.m., each day the center is open, too.

Corrections

An article about the Owyhee County Sheriff's Office recent employment moves in last week's edition of The Owyhee Avalanche had outdated information. During the Dec. 20 Board of County Commissioners meeting, Deputy Pat McCormack's wage was corrected to $20.31 per hour and his employment type was corrected from seasonal to part-time. Under Public Employees Retirement System of Idaho pension rules, a part-time employee, can only work 19.5 hours each week.

The wrong photo appeared with Jaxon Dines' Homedale High School athlete spotlight in last week's paper.

✓ Shooting: Numerous domestic disturbances reported at residence

in Boise.

Donahue said deputies arrived on scene to serve the protection order and allow Castro to collect some belongings to leave the residence. Castro's wife was on the property at the time of the incident.

Donahue said Grant had told him that Owyhee deputies had responded to reports of domestic disturbances at the home in the 16000 block of Rim Rock Lane six or seven times in the seven to 10 days leading up to the incident.

The deputies, who have not been identified, were placed on paid administrative leave after the shooting. Donahue said it is customary for investigators to wait 48 hours after an incident before interviewing the law enforcement personnel.

No updates have been released since last week's press conference. Donahue said it would be up to Grant on whether the deputies involved would be publicly identified.

Castro had an extensive criminal past, serving 20 years in prison for a 1998 conviction in Ada County for felony lewd conduct with a child under 16. He was released from state prison in 2018 and was in compliance as a registered sex offender on the Idaho State Police registry at the time of his death.

He was sentenced to three years in prison for a 1997 conviction of felony marijuana possession with intent to distribute or manufacture.

Donahue told reporters that after Castro's death he became aware that the man was a person of interest in the 1994 disappearance of 17-year-old Krystyn Dunlap-Bosse. Media reports said Castro was the girl's ex-boyfriend.

Boise Police interviewed Castro about the disappearance in 2011.

According to a report on TheCharleyProject.org, the girl left home to get away from Castro, who was said to be abusive. Her family and friends last heard from her in December 1994 when she was apparently working at a McCall hotel.

✓ Oaths: Christoffersen poised to begin third term as Homedale's mayor

resigning six years ago.

- Homedale's first council meeting of the year begins at 6 p.m., and incumbent Mike Aebischer and former councilperson Kim Murray will join Mayor Gheen Christoffersen in taking the oath of office shortly after Christoffersen drops the gavel on the meeting inside the magistrate courtroom.

Christoffersen is starting his third four-year term as Homedale's chief executive.

The courtroom is across the lobby from the city offices inside Homedale City Hall, 31 W. Wyoming Ave.

Murray returns to the council after departing in December 2015 because she moved out of the area.

She fills the seat previously held by Jerry Anderson. Anderson decided to retire from public service and didn't seek re-election. It was Anderson who was appointed to succeed Murray when she resigned.

Murray and Anderson were the top two vote-getters in a three-way election for two positions. Nathan Raabe was the third hopeful.

- Marsing also has a mix of councilpersons either continuing or beginning service.

Elizabeth Wahl, whose husband works for the city, ran unopposed to succeed Rachael Percifield. Percifield decided against seeking re-election.

Brandy Johnson was handed her own four-year term after serving as an appointee in the wake of Jolyn Thompson's resignation.

- Grand View has two new councilpersons after a three-candidate race in November.

Former state legislative candidate Andrea Owens and Terry Nielson were the only people whose names appeared on the ballot and won election. Former city Planning and Zoning board chair Nola Boone ran a write-in campaign.

How to make New Year’s resolution to save more money really take off

My favorite subject in finance is the time value money. The concept is simple: Money grows exponentially more valuable over time when it is invested. To illustrate this, let us suppose that you were able to save $150 a month (or five dollars a day) and invest it in the stock market, which historically averages about a seven percent return. Assuming these inputs, you would have invested $1,800 of your own money and earned an additional $59.82 in interest. Not an impressive return.

However, the money continues to grow, and the interest accrues faster further down the line. Over five years, your balance will grow to $10,740 and then grow by more than 150 percent in the next five years leaving you with $25,964 by the end of Year 10. It is worth pointing out that at this point your account is earning you $150 in interest every month on top of your regular $150 investment.

A fun way to look at this is that it took you 10 years to build an account that will match your contribution dollar-for-dollar at least.

The account will more than triple over the following 10 years, amounting to $78,142.51 by the end of Year 20. If you’re in the early stages of home ownership, this could get you close to paying off a 30-year mortgage nearly 10 years early. Or you could keep investing and watch your account more than double in the next 10 years and double yet again in the ensuing 10 years after that, accumulating to $183,002 by the end of Year 30 and $393,736 by Year 40.

To understand how incredible the time value of money is, all you have to do is look at the accompanying graph. As you can see, by Year 20 the interest earned on your account starts to separate and outpace the total of your $150 payments significantly, to the point where 82 percent ($321,736) of your balance at the end of Year 40 is comprised of just earned interest.

Now, I understand that 40 years is a long time away. As morbid as it sounds, many of us don’t have 40 years left to live. But regardless of our age or circumstances in life, saving for a cause is a worthwhile endeavor. It could be saving for a child or grandchild’s education, more vacations, a comfortable retirement, leaving an inheritance, or simply to teach our youth the power of the time value of money. Whatever your reason might be, there is not a better time than the new year to resolve to save and invest more money.

Obituary

Corey Lee Larsen

Corey Lee Larsen passed away on New Year’s Day, January 1, 2022 at St. Alphonsus Hospital in Nampa, ID with his loving wife Estella and his children by his side.

A viewing will be held at Dakan Funeral Chapel on Wednesday January 12th 2022 at 5 p.m. A full memorial service will be held at the Marsing Legion Hall on 1 p.m. on Thursday, January 13th 2022.

Corey was born May 22, 1970 in Caldwell, ID to Robert and Sharon (Finkbeiner) Larsen, the youngest of five children. Corey grew up on the family farm in the Jump Creek area SW of Marsing, ID where he attended Marsing High School participating in sports and other activities. Corey was an exceptional student and graduated as Valedictorian of his senior class in 1988.

Upon graduation from high school, Corey attended Oregon Institute of Technology in Klamath Falls, OR and received a bachelor’s degree in Electrical Engineering from OIT in 1993. Always one to have fun and explore new avenues, Corey invested and won $10,000 in the first Idaho Lottery of 1990. That jackpot was very helpful with purchasing his first computer along with school costs and housing during his college career.

After graduating from OIT, Corey moved back to Marsing and worked at various odd jobs in the area until he landed a gig with Micron Technology at Nampa, ID in 1996. Corey moved up the ranks of Micron rapidly and at the time of his passing was one of the lead hardware engineers in the Boise Complex. He was a dedicated employee and was one of their primary outreach engineers responsible for expanding Micron products to China, Taiwan, and Malaysia.

Corey married Monica Larsen on April 22, 1995 and resided in Marsing for 7 years until Monica’s grandmother Patricia Lootens passed away in 2002. They then moved into the Lootens’ house in 2003 to help care for Mrs. Lootens’ daughter Donna. Corey always tried to provide a stable home environment for his family and will be remembered in that regard.

When he wasn’t working at Micron, Corey partook in many different hobbies. He would occasionally go on fishing and hunting outings with friends. There were moments he caught little fries, and other times, he caught some real monsters. At home, Corey would tinker with a variety of DIY projects. He built his own computer with a transparent tower case and memory chips he helped build at Micron. However, his most proud project was a mobile chicken tractor which used natural methods to “eat up” all the weeds.

Corey was also an avid sports fan and would watch almost every sport that one can find on TV and in person. He especially enjoyed watching his children play for his hometown Marsing Huskies where he was often the loudest fan in the crowd. His two favorite sports were basketball and golf.

Later in life, Corey met Estella (Perez) Larsen where they would marry on August 4th, 2019 and share their life together. They were in a relationship for seven years and married for three. Good times and special moments were bountiful the whole time they were together. The home they shared was also the home his parents had resided in many years past. Family was always important to Corey, both old and new.

Corey was preceded in death by his parents, Bob and Sharon, and half brother John Miller. He is survived by his wife Estella Larsen; children Ashley, Josh, and Jake; stepchildren Aiesha, Jasmine, Dasia, Mya; and two grandchildren. His remaining siblings are Debbie Urizar, Steve Larsen, and Evan Miller along with many nieces and nephews.

The virtual class will run from 9 a.m., to noon each Tuesday from Feb. 1 to March 15. The in-person class will take place from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m., on back-to-back Tuesdays (March 22 and March 29) at the U of

I Owyhee County Extension Office, 238 8th Ave. W., in Marsing. Participants will learn how to safely preserve food products. Upon class completion, the participants must serve 30 hours as volunteers providing research-based food preservation information either by answering phone calls, helping during classes, teaching classes, staffing booths or making displays. If a participant is unable to complete the 30 hours of volunteer work or only want to do the class work, there is an additional $300 cost. Preference is given to students who want to complete both phases of the program. Course topics include canning acid foods such as fruits and tomatoes, canning low-acid foods such as meats and vegetables, creating soft spreads (jams and jellies), pickling, dehydration, food safety and freezing methods. The class fee includes a handbook, additional reference materials, food, lab supplies and 40 hours of instruction. Scholarships are available, and registrants who refer and friend or family member get a $10 registration discount for both.

Teens & Tweens
ready to embark on Game Night

A local beekeeper who has marketed goods locally will lead the U and I Together class Friday at the Gypsy Jackson Memorial Library. Malia Tate from Steele Legacy Honey and Crafts is the guest instructor for “How Bees Make Honey,” which will take place at 2 p.m., at Homedale’s city library, 121 W. Owyhee Ave. The class will feature different kinds of honey to sample, and a door prize will be given away. Malia and her husband Goose have sold their products at the Snake River Country Market in Marsing. Next week’s U and I Together class, “Get Outdoors: Explore Idaho,” will feature Idaho Department of Parks and Recreation Ranger Bri Ford. The classes are free.

Retired teacher back at Story Time
Steve Belknap, a Homedale resident who taught in Parma for years, returns to lead Opal Nash Story Time at 10:15 a.m., on Monday. Reflecting the time of year, Belknap plans to read “When it Starts To Snow” by Phillis Gershaton and “Tacky The Penguin” by Helen Lester.

T&T Game Night set
Teens & Tweens participants will enjoy Game Night during the program at 5 p.m., on Thursday. Boys and girls ages 10 and 17 are invited to come play a variety of board games. “This encourages interaction between them and helps break the ice between them,” new library youth programs coordinator Emily Lincoln said. The Teens & Tweens group typically meets at the library then migrates next door to the Homedale Community Center. Call (208) 337-4228 for more information on programs. Library hours are noon to 6 p.m., Monday through Wednesday, from noon to 7 p.m., on Thursday, from 10 a.m., to 5 p.m., on Friday, and from 10 a.m., to 1 p.m., on Saturday. The library is closed on Sunday.

✓ Clinic: Public meeting part of process to obtain federal funding

name for Community Health Clinics Inc., has had a clinic in that flat-roofed Homedale building since 1979, according to Claudia Weathermon, TRHS director of community engagement and communication.

The building was constructed in 1975, and wasn't originally designed to be a medical clinic.

"There has been no significant construction or interior remodeling to the facility since 1979 when it was converted to use as a clinic," Weathermon said. "The existing facility has many systems, components, and finishes that are nearing, or are beyond the end of their useful life.

"In that time we have also increased the services offered in Homedale by adding dental and behavioral health."

TRHS still offers dental services at a North 2nd Street West location, but the organization sold the building to Owyhee County last year. TRHS now rents space for the dental offices, and Weathermon said the plan is to move those services to the new location once construction is complete.

Weathermon said the sale of the building on the west side of downtown was part of the larger plan to build a new clinic and incorporate all health services under one roof.

A pharmacy also will be added to the reimagined complex.

There is no timeline on

construction because of other requirements, such as an environmental assessment, because federal money will be used to help fund the project.

"As a community health center we are able to offer affordable, high-quality care under a model known as the Patient Centered Medical Home. It is a team-based care delivery model that provides coordinated comprehensive care," Weathermon said.

"Having medical, dental and behavioral health plus the pharmacy under one roof provides for better coordination of care and improved access for patients. These factors work together toward the goal of improving health outcomes for people who struggle to get regular, high-quality healthcare."

The public meeting is a requirement to receive $1 million in U.S. Department of Agriculture Rural Development funding for the project.

The project will cost an estimated $2.5 million and expand the current 2,800-square-foot building to 5,000 square feet. The plan is to move the property's footprint south to the old site of the Jackson's Texaco storage facility.

Weathermon said the expansion will also grow the parking lot from the current 10 spaces to 18 slots.

TRHS has a pending grant request of $1 million, and Weathermon said the remaining $500,000 will be acquired through a capital campaign.

Next week's public meeting will be an informal, open-house type of affair. Community members will be able to tour the existing clinic, which has hallways zig-zagging past cramped examination rooms and open office space, as well as view renderings of the proposed plan.

Weathermon said members of the organization's leadership team also will be on hand.

A public comment period will open, and Weathermon said a construction timeline will be determined only after architectural and engineering plans, and the bidding, permitting and contractor selection processes are complete.

Homedale dog licenses on sale through City Hall

The City of Homedale is selling dog licenses for 2022. The tags are $10 for canines that are fixed and $15 for animals that are unaltered. Dog owners must provide proof of rabies vaccination when they stop in to City Hall (31 W. Wyoming Ave.) to purchase the dog tags. Call City Hall at (208) 337-4641 for more information.

Next free movie night looms in Marsing

Another free movie night is on the way in Marsing. The monthly community movie night will be staged at 7 p.m., on Thursday, Jan. 20. Concessions will be sold during the movie. Movie titles cannot be shared, but the City of Marsing usually comes up with a fun riddle to help folks figure out what flick is on tap. The movies are screened inside the Phipps-Watson Marsing American Legion Post 128 Community Center (126 W. 2nd St. N.) on the third Thursday of each month.

HHS career fair focuses on local businesses

In an attempt to show students what is available in the local job market, Homedale High School is recruiting local business leaders to participate in a community career fair. The first annual HHS Community Career Fair will take place from 1 p.m., to 2:30 p.m., on Thursday, Jan. 27 at the school. According to a flier, the event aims to educate students about career opportunities in their back yard. Business leaders are encouraged to attend to show what their company does, what is sought in future employees and what training and education is needed to work in their company. Students will rotate between four presenters. Each of the four presentations will last 15 minutes, including time for questions and answers. There will be computers with projectors available for PowerPoint or Google Slides presentations. Kristie Dorsey, who is the senior project coordinator at the high school, is asking for RSVPs from business leaders by Tuesday. RSVP or get more details by calling or texting to (208) 573-2047 or kdorsey@homedalschools.org. Information is also available from HHS principal Matt Holtry at mholtry@homedalschools.org.

Jordan Valley CWMA slates weeds seminar

The Jordan Valley Cooperative Weed Management Area’s winter weed seminar returns on Wednesday, Jan. 26. The seminar starts at 10 a.m., inside the Jordan Valley Lions Hall, 902 Bassett St. (U.S. Hwy. 95). Those interested in attending can RSVP to Jordan Valley CWMA coordinator Eric Morrison at (541) 586-3000 or jvcwma@qwestoffice.net. Topics to be covered include:

- Economic advantages of using Rejuvra and the value of improved forage
- Weed sprayer calibration
- Pesticide application along state lines
- Integra DeLamar’s natural resource plan
- Progress against fighting grasshoppers
- Partner and industry updates

Letter to the editor

OHR, residents grateful for community’s generosity

Owyhee Health and Rehab would like to express their gratitude and appreciation for the outpouring of thoughts and gifts through the holidays. Our residents want the community to know how much you are appreciated as you brought holiday cheer and joy to all of them.

We would like to give a special thank you to the staff of Last Chance Saloon and Fishers for their hard work and efforts to put together a benefit for our residents and taking their personal time to go shopping and a make our Christmas day special.

We would also like to personally thank The Bowling Alley for all their generosity. The residents are looking forward to going out to dine at your restaurant.

The community was extremely thoughtful in their gifts donated to The Owyhee Avalanche during their annual gift drive.

We cannot thank you all enough for everything that everyone did for us through the holidays. We are proud to be a part of such a loving community. Thank You!

Eyes on Owyhee
Our eyes at the Statehouse

With Gov. Brad Little’s State of the State Address kicking off the second session of the 66th Idaho Legislature, all eyes are on Boise for the next few months — hopefully just the next few months.

The Owyhee Avalanche doesn’t actively cover the Statehouse goings-on for obvious reasons. When would we have time to cover everything that is going in Owyhee County if we were shackled to the big city? (Boi-Angeles, as a friend and Avalanche reader calls it).

Fortunately for the Avalanche and other small newspapers around the state the James A. and Louise McClure Center for Public Policy Research at the University of Idaho once again has dispatched two communications students to Boise to intern as legislative reporters.

Both have strong ties to Idaho, and both provided biographies so readers around the state could know a little bit about the person behind the byline as the session gets rolling.

Crystal Callahan, the McClure center’s research and program manager, provided the reporters’ bios and photos.

We produce them here in their unabridged entirety:

Supporting our armed forces

The Fiscal Year (FY) 2022 National Defense Authorization Act (NDAA) contains a number of provisions to provide resources to help Idaho’s women and men in uniform conduct their missions forcefully and efficiently. This includes funding for Mountain Home Air Force Base, Gowen Field and the Idaho National Laboratory (INL). It provides critical tools necessary for boosting America’s national security both at home and abroad. Along with fellow U.S. senator for Idaho Jim Risch, I was proud to support the FY 2022 NDAA when the U.S. Senate passed this important legislation by a vote of 88-11 before it was signed into law.

The FY 2022 NDAA includes specific authorized funds for various projects important to the state of Idaho, including:

- Cleanup and waste disposal at the Idaho National Laboratory;
- A water treatment plant at the Mountain Home Air Force Base to ensure a steady and reliable source of water at the base;
- A first-of-its-kind National Guard Readiness Center in Jerome;
- A new medical training facility at Gowen Field;
- Continuous composite 3D printing projects, in which Idaho industry plays a key role;
- A Sense of Congress that the U.S. government should continue to appropriately compensate and recognize individuals affected by Cold-War era above-ground nuclear testing, often referred to as “downwinders.”

The “downwinders” provisions are part of ongoing

Financial management

Build fund within an emergency fund for car repairs

Dear Dave,

I am following your plan, and recently became debt-free, but I have a question. When doing a monthly budget, should I figure in a specific category for car repairs and maintenance, or just use my emergency fund?

— Ashleigh

Dear Ashleigh,

Congratulations on becoming debt-free! You know, new cars, old cars and in-between cars all have one thing in common — they’ll need repairs at some point. Fixing your car is just a basic part of car ownership, and something every car owner should be prepared for. When life happens, to your vehicle or anything else, an emergency fund acts like an airbag. Only instead of keeping your face from hitting the dashboard, it keeps your finances from getting smashed up. When it comes to car repair costs, I advise creating a sinking fund in your budget. A sinking fund is a special place in your budget where you save up money for specific, big-ticket items — like car repairs. I know, stuffing money into a sinking fund each month sounds about as enjoyable as waiting in line at the DMV. But look at it this way, if you had a car loan like most people, you’d be putting hundreds toward that debt each month. Instead, you’re one of the smart ones who doesn’t have any debt and can easily create a repair fund for your car by setting aside less than the average car payment each month. Even “reliable” cars need repairs and maintenance, and a sinking fund within your budget for this sort of thing means you’re ready to handle virtually any auto issues that pop up. You know you’ll need to pay for repairs and maintenance. It’s a thing with all cars. And when you know something’s coming, that’s not an emergency fund situation. Great question, Ashleigh!

Abigail and Jessica during the legislative session.

I’m indebted to Crystal and the long-standing relationship with the McClure center that helps the Avalanche bring legislative news that will directly affect Owyhees to the newspaper each week in the winter and spring.

Well, hopefully, early spring.

It is my hope that our District 23 delegation — Reps. Megan Blanksma and Matthew Bundy and Sen. Christy Zito — will make efforts to keep their constituents informed through the pages of the Avalanche as well.

I know it can get busy at the Statehouse, but our pages have always been open for words from the delegation — collectively or individually.

With redistricting rearranging the primary election choices in just a few short months, it’s probably more important than ever to pay attention to the happenings at the Statehouse so individuals can be prepared to engage with the new lawmakers (most likely not from Owyhee County) who will represent Owyhee County interests (hopefully) over the next 10 years beginning with the 67th Legislature next January.

Enjoy the show, folks.

prioritizes military family readiness by including support for spousal employment. Specifically, the law supports a 2.7 percent pay raise for both military servicemembers and the U.S. Department of Defense civilian workforce. It extends military recruitment and retention tools and provides for the improvement of servicemember family housing. It funds new ships, submarines, projection forces, hypersonics, space systems and other important technologies. Republicans were also successful in preventing progressive lawmakers from using the NDAA to advance their far-left social agenda and further their efforts for D.C. statehood.

The law supports addressing ongoing foreign concerns. It contains provisions to help address China’s encroaching aggression in the Indo-Pacific region; reinforces Afghanistan accountability; requires assessments of Iran sanctions; extends support of U.S. law enforcement counter-narcotic and counter-transnational crime efforts; and more.

Providing for our national defense is one of Congress’s most critical jobs delineated in our Constitution. Enactment of the FY 2022 NDAA is a step forward in meeting this important responsibility, as I continue to advocate for provisions important to Idaho and our nation’s defense and federal policy that honors the enormous contributions of American servicemembers and military families to our security and protection of our freedoms.

— Republican Mike Crapo is Idaho’s senior member of the U. S. Senate. He is in his fourth six-year term and has served in the Senate since 1999 and last week announced plans to seek a fifth term in office this year. Prior to that, he was a three-term Idaho Second District congressman.

City appoints attorney; reappoints chief, clerk

The Homedale City Council last week approved the appointment of lawyer Dan Grober as the city's new civil and prosecuting attorney, replacing Chris Nye. Grober recently opened a law office in Homedale.

The council also approved the reappointment of police chief Ron Roberson and city clerk Pam Dugger. The appointments were made at the discretion of Mayor Paul Fink. All three officials will serve a one-year term, to run until next January.

City amends ordinance to deal with tree problem

The city of Homedale has amended its public nuisance ordinance in an effort to deal with dead and untrimmed trees within city limits.

Previously, the only provision Homedale's ordinance contained concerning trees pertained to obstruction of an intersection. Beyond that, the ordinance did not address the problem. Public Works Director Larry Bauer had suggested the council examine the city of Nampa's nuisance ordinance, to determine if language from it could be used in the city's ordinance.

The council approved the insertion of language similar to the language used in Nampa's ordinance concerning dead and untrimmed trees.

Mayor Paul Fink said some people have objected to the tree trimmer about having limbs cut off their shade trees, but so far, no one has made an official complaint to city hall.

City seeks to improve Main St., water system

In response to the Highway 95 bypass project, the city of Homedale is seeking engineers to assist the city in the improvement of Main Street and the water system in anticipation of grant money available for downtown revitalization.

Keller and Associates, although not officially hired at this point, is the prospective engineering firm for the project, said Public Works Director Larry Bauer. Company representatives will be in attendance at a community meeting scheduled for Jan. 22 at 7 p.m. at the Homedale High School lunch room. Jerome Mapp, community development specialist with Ida-Ore Planning and Development Association, Inc., will also attend.

The public is encouraged to attend the meeting to discuss how best to utilize grant money for downtown revitalization. If the project goes forward, the engineering firm will be paid for its services out of grant money, Bauer said. If the project were to fizzle, the city would be obligated to pay the firm's costs.

School board to review code on dress, hair length

A meeting with the community dress code committee was set for next Monday night at 7:30 in the high school band room at the regular monthly meeting of the Homedale school board held last Monday night in the Washington building.

Standards of dress and hair length will be discussed with students, faculty and parents.

The board paid bills totaling $6,011.07.

It authorized purchase of 25 bus tires and tubes from Texaco Service at a total exchange price of $864.25. Bids were called on a new 66-passenger school bus on March 13.

Supt. Deward Bell reported on activities of Canyon-Owyhee School Service Agency.

Supt. Bell reported that due to lack of interest the proposed kindergarten program will not be initiated.

Paulette Zatica was excused from regular classes so that she may serve as a page in the Idaho legislature during the current session.

The Homedale High School senior choir was authorized to perform at the Idaho Music Educators conference at Moscow on March 24.

Trojans take win over Lumberjacks at Council

Exploding for a 13-point lead in the first quarter, the Trojans went on to whip the Council Lumberjacks 83-55 in a non-league game Saturday night at Council.

Brian Vance, Rich Degitz and Alan Echeverria combined for 20 of the Trojans' points in the opening period as they built a 24-11 lead over the Lumberjacks.

Vance was the leading scorer in the contest with a total of 26 points before leaving the floor after three quarters. Echeverria finished with 13 points for the Trojans and Degitz had 12. Gary Draper led the Council scoring with 19.

The win boosts the Trojans record to 8-2 for the year with a 1-0 record in Southwest Idaho League competition.

They are all accomplished in the art of making concord of sweet sounds upon brass instruments, and are excellent performers on the various stringed instruments, and are on hand for all jobs in their line.

COUNTY OFFICERS.—Several of the offices changed hands last Monday.

A.C. Springer, Esq., succeeded L. Stanford in the office of Sheriff by appointment in November last, and now has filed his bonds and takes the office by virtue of his election last August. The fact that Mr. Springer has held the position of Deputy under his predecessor and been elected to the office with a political majority against him, afford strong guarantees of his fitness for Sheriff of Owyhee County.

The Recorder's office, since the organization of the County, has been held by Judge Gilmore Hays — first by appointment and the last two years by election. His integrity and efficiency in the office have been constant and subjects of common remark. By virtue of his office, he was Clerk of the Board of County Commissioners; hence, as Auditor, Clerk and Recorder his influence upon County business was large and at all times beneficial. The duties of Recorder (and we believe Auditor) now devolve upon L. W. Greenwell, Esq., elected last August. He has appointed R. L. Chase, Esq., Deputy, who is a neat penman, correct accountant and a gentleman with whom it will be a pleasure to transact business.

Dr. A. E. Woodson takes the office of County Clerk, an office segregated from that of Recorder and for the first time a distinct one in this County.

Dr. T. D. Beckett has held the purse for the past two years, and in turning over his books and cash to his successor and rendering an account of his stewardship to the Commissioners, he shows a clear record and retires from the office in good shape, without any but words of approval of his management of the Treasurer's office. Col. A. H. Webb succeeds the Dr. in the Treasurership, in whose hands the funds will be honestly and correctly managed — notwithstanding he thinks the demand of the Commissioners to give bonds in the sum of $20,000 (while his predecessor's was only $5,000) rather heavy.

Melba boys roll into No. 1 vs. No. 2 clash vs. Ambrose

Conference leaders meet Thursday in Meridian

Three big scoring nights and a double-double helped Melba High School soar past New Plymouth.

Cache Beus led the attack with 25 points, and the Mustangs blew out the Pilgrims, 76-55, on Jan. 4.

Melba, ranked No. 2 among the state's Class 2A teams by MaxPreps, knocked off Compass Charter later in the week in its attempt to keep pace with top-ranked 2A Western Idaho Conference leader The Ambrose School.

The Mustangs (9-1 overall, 4-0 in conference) take a five-game winning streak into their matchup against the Archers (11-0, 5-0), which takes place at 7:30 p.m., on Thursday in Meridian.

Ambrose is the top-ranked team in the IdahoSports.com Class 2A coaches' poll, while Melba is No. 4.

Beus finished off his double-double with 11 rebounds in the conference game inside the Pilgrims' gym.

Joe Reiber scored 22 points, and Braden Volkers poured in 18 as Melba captured its fourth consecutive win and remained a half-game out of the

Aggressive, accurate Archers hammer Huskies

Coach sees positive flashes against state's top 2A team

Already short-handed, Marsing High School boys' basketball coach Tim Little watched his team's shots come up short against relentless and accurate The Ambrose School on Friday.

The unbeaten Archers lit it up from the outside and cleaned up the offensive glass in an 81-38 victory in a 2A Western Idaho Conference game played on the Huskies' floor.

"The pace of the game was not very well controlled by us, mainly due to a ton of pressure that we felt on the offensive end and their attack style offense and precise shooting," Little said.

The Class 2A state runner-up last season, Ambrose (11-0 overall, 5-0 in conference) is the top-ranked team in the state in the IdahoSports.com Class 2A coaches' poll and in the MaxPreps classification rankings.

Melba girls sprint past Marsing in showdown tune-up

Cole Valley upends Mustangs in battle atop conference

Melba High School shook off an early flurry of turnovers for an easy 2A Western Idaho Conference girls' basketball victory.

Holding host Marsing to just two points over the final 2½ quarters Thursday, the Mustangs romped to a 63-8 triumph.

Marsing (5-8 overall, 2-6 in conference at week's end) hadn't played since a narrow 37-35 win over Cascade on Dec. 17. Thursday marks the first time the Huskies had been held to fewer than 10 points in a game in at least 12 years.

The Huskies lost to visiting Nampa Christian, 42-23, in a conference game Saturday night.

"The final score wasn't what we wanted at the end; however, there was a lot of growth last night," Marsing coach Mike Swanson wrote on social media after the loss to Nampa Christian.

"The Lady Huskies played every second of that game like it was their last, and it was amazing to see that. I am very proud to be coaching these ladies."

Melba (13-2, 5-2) saw its nine-game winning streak end Saturday with a 48-28 loss in a battle against conference leader Cole Valley Christian (12-4, 7-0).

Melba entered Saturday's game as the state's No. 1, according to MaxPreps' Class 2A rankings. Cole Valley was rated third. The IdahoSports.com coaches' poll had Cole Valley and Melba ranked 1-2, respectively, before the contest. The Melba High School's Brooklyn Dayley (left), an Owyhee County resident, looks to complete a layup in Thursday's conference game in Marsing.

Mustangs lost to the Chargers in last year's District III championship game before rolling to the state championship.

In Thursday's game in Marsing, 5-foot, 10-inch junior guard Hallie Arnold led all scorers with 13 points and hit a three-point goal to open the second quarter and give Melba a 17-4 advantage.

The Mustangs were able to widen the gap despite a few trips of futility in the first quarter. Melba would get a turnover or defensive rebound, but the Huskies' defenders would pull off a steal on the other end to prevent scoring.

The dam broke, however, when 5-8 junior forward Meya Young went coast-to-coast with a defensive rebound for a layup with 12.4 seconds left in the opening frame.

Young's basket triggered a 15-0 run fueled by turnovers and quickness.

Arnold scooped up a loose ball on Marsing's end and went the length of the floor for a layup, and Erika Hunter scored back-to-back baskets on steals and layups during the spurt.

Marsing junior post Llee Loucks ended the run with a bank-in jump shot. The Huskies trailed, 27-6, with 3 minutes, 53 seconds left in the first half.

Kendall Clark, a 5-10 junior forward, scored 11 points for Melba, and teammate Brooklyn Dayley, 5-6 sophomore guard from Owyhee County, came up with nine steals, six assists and seven points.

Marsing coaches provided no statistics. No specifics were provided for Melba's loss against Cole Valley.

Huskies wrestling duo reaches Mtn. View semifinals

Two Marsing High School athletes came within one victory of wrestling for championships in the Mountain View Junior Varsity Invitational.

The competition was held Friday and Saturday at Mountain View High School in Meridian.

Iñigo Medina continued a successful season with championship bracket wins in the 152-pound B division.

Jantzen Davis, wrestling at 160B, only needed one victory — a pin in 2 minutes, 28 seconds against Ontario, Ore.'s Eutimio Banuelos — to reach the semifinals.

Medina edged Redmond, Ore.'s Brandon Wood, 10-8, in his opener then pinned Borah's Carlos Cisneros-Lemos in the quarterfinals. He lost another narrow decision, 11-9, to Eagle's Tanner Smith in the semifinals.

Davis lost his semifinal bout to Ridgevue's Daryk Neu, who pulled off a pinfall at 1:50.

Freshman Erika Frazier pinned Meridian's Jake Silveria in 2:45 in the opening round. She rebounded in the consolation bracket with an exciting 5-4 win over Eagle's Samuel Bauer.

Jaristian Fuentes-Crandall started her tournament with a 12-8 win over Columbia's Dawson Jordan in the 138B bracket.

Jonathan Leon (182) got his first win of the season with a consolation-bracket pin against Skyline's Sawyer Danielson (1:53).

Trayton Jacobi (195) won his first match of the tourney, pinning Preston's Freeman Sturges in 91 seconds.

McCall mutes Homedale girls' momentum

Huge start to second half topples Pirates

Two days after their first conference victory, Homedale High School's girls' basketball players couldn't claim a piece of third place in the 3A Snake River Valley conference.

McCall-Donnelly won the battle to stay just behind second-place Parma with a 50-32 victory over the visiting Trojans on Saturday.

Homedale (5-8, 1-2 before Tuesday's road game against 3A SRV leader Fruitland) had won four of its previous six games, including Thursday's 57-31 home victory against Payette, before the game in Valley County.

McCall-Donnelly (5-6, 2-1) finished the week a half-game behind Parma.

Thursday: Homedale 57, Payette 31 — The Trojans lived from the outside, knocking down eight three-point goals and matching a season-high point output to collect their first conference victory.

The point total matched Homedale's season high, first achieved in a 57-34 win over Vale, Ore., on Dec. 11.

Half of the team's treys — including two from Jacy Parker — came in a 17-3 run

Homedale High School senior guard/forward Cheyenne Kelly fires a pass into the corner of the frontcourt against the defense of Payette sophomore Destany Rodriguez during Thursday's conference game on the Trojans' floor.

(including the first 14 points after intermission) to open the second half and put the game out of reach.

Amaia Aberasturi hit a three-pointer and jump shot during 14 unanswered points by the hosts to start the third quarter.

Homedale won for the fourth time in its past six games.

The host Trojans clutched a one-point lead, 19-18, at half-time before Parker, Aberasturi and Zayne Hall all drilled long-range shots in the third quarter.

When not hitting shots from the outside, Homedale's players were on the free-throw line.

Parker connected on six of 10 foul shots and led all players with 21 points.

The Trojans were 17-for-28 from the charity stripe, including Aberasturi's perfect turn in four tries in the fourth quarter. She scored half of her 12 points in the final frame after popping a pair of treys.

Hall had two three-pointers for all of her scoring, and Sydney Davis hit a three-pointer and a jump shot in the first quarter on the way to six points.

The teams combined for 52 free-throw attempts. Payette connected on half of its 24 tries.

Senior Madisyn Collingwood and sophomore Destany Rodriguez shared the scoring lead for the Pirates (6-8, 0-4) with eight points each. Both scored half of their totals from the foul line: Rodriguez was 4-for-6, and Collingwood went 4-for-9.

Reiber also collected five rebounds and five steals, while Volkars dished five assists.

Three New Plymouth scorers reached double figures, too, including Casey Arritola (15 points), Heath Schescke (13), and Landon Christensen (10).

Thursday: Melba 67, Compass Honors 29 — Tucker Lowber found double digits in the Mustangs' easy conference victory in Meridian.

Lowber scored 10 points and snagged five rebounds, while teammates Reiber and Dillon Stosich poured in 13 points apiece.

Beus scored seven points to go with eight rebounds and five assists.

The Mustangs controlled the boards with a team effort.

Stosich had four rebounds and three steals, and Reiber came down with three boards.

Compass (2-7, 0-4 at week's end) was led by 6-foot, 3-inch sophomore Pavel Muzafarov, who scored nine points, and 6-2 senior Wesley Forman with eight.

✓ Jordan: Pivotal Thursday contest will decide early-season league leader mascot — tips off at 4 p.m., MST on Friday.

Crane (10-1 overall, 3-0 in league) is the only squad to beat Jordan Valley (11-1, 3-0) this season. Crane picked up a narrow 31-29 win over Jordan Valley on Dec. 18 on the last day of the Union Bobcat Classic.

Jordan Valley's double-up and then some against Adrian ignited a three-win week that included a blowout (61-11 at Dayville-Monument on Friday) and a slim victory (46-44 at Prairie City on Saturday).

Jordan Valley opened the home game against Adrian (7-6, 1-1) with 19 points in the first quarter.

Jill Gammett scored seven of her nine points and knocked down a three-point goal in the first eight minutes.

Meg Eiguren also scored four of her six points in the first quarter.

Kelsey Gluch, who converted both her free-throw chances, scored a co-team-high 10 points.

Taylor Eiguren scored six points in the third quarter en route to 10 points.

Shailee Rutan was 2-for-2 at the foul line, and Jordan Valley dropped four of six chances.

Adrian trailed by 10 points, 29-10, at halftime. Presley Speelmon led all scorers with 12 points. She connected for three-pointers in the second and third quarters and scored the Antelopes' only two free throws.

Elizabeth Nielson drained a trey in the first quarter as Adrian scored seven points. The Antelopes scored seven points again to start the second half.

Trojans take their swings at Rollie Lane Invitational

Haun wrestles into third round of championship bracket

A handful of Homedale High School wrestlers collected multiple wins during the massive Rollie Lane Invitational. The tournament that attracts athletes from around the Intermountain West was held Friday and Saturday at the Ford Idaho Center in Nampa. Senior Willy Haun blitzed his first two opponents at 195 pounds and won three matches total.

He pinned Hunter Homer from Wasatch of Heber City, Utah, in 56 seconds then put Zachary Lulich from Silverton, Ore., on the mat four seconds before the end of the opening period of their match. Haun’s final victory was another first-round pin (1:44) against Skyview’s Takoda McMillian in the fourth round of the consolation tournament. He bowed out with a narrow

2-1 decision against Malcolm Duthie of Post Falls. Senior Rhyalee Nix won four matches at 182 pounds, including his opening match: A pin against La Pine, Ore.’s Sean Forbes in 1:54. Nix rattled off three consecutive pinfall victories in the consolation bracket — Nampa Christian’s Sean Barton (3:21), Capital’s Collin Ferguson (3:37), and Meridian’s Jackson Gallian (2:14). Michael Rose (220) also had three pins in the consolation bracket — Boni Jacinto of Winnemucca, Nev.’s Lowry (4:39), Russell Walden of the Baker/Powder Valley cooperative (2:09), and fellow 3A Snake River Valley conference competitor Brody Holaday of Fruitland (4:42). Brodie White, also competing at 220, won his first match of the day in dramatic fashion, a 3-1 sudden victory after getting a two-point takedown in the extra period against Preston’s Micah Peery. White also beat Timberlake’s Trevor Cady, 5-3, in the consolation bracket.

Shawn Lee won his first match of the tournament, pinning Baker/Powder Valley’s Samuel Nelson 29 seconds before the end of their 126-pound bout. Brayden Rosa pinned Carson Evans of American Falls (2:16) in a 132-pound consolation match. Other wrestlers getting in some mat time for the Trojans were Wyatt Stewart (113), Kinley Balkevetz (120), Andrew Marston (145), Baltazar Vega (152), and Keegan McKay (160).

✓ Huskies: Bench players coming up big playing with a limited roster with Roman Robles missing the week’s action with a knee injury, Mikey Acosta slowed by a knee injury and the departure of Alejandro Barrera, who “decided to remove himself from the team for personal reasons,” Little said. “The boys took the loss hard and were very emotional as Ambrose did not let up the entire game,” Little said. “However, there were some positives and we will try to build on those with about five weeks left of the season.” Bouncing back from a scary potential injury two minutes into the game, senior guard Noel Quebrado drained four three-point goals and led Marsing with 16 points. He also had three assists.

six three-pointers and scored 27 points to lead Ambrose. He hit back-to-back treys to launch 18 unanswered points after Marsing grabbed a 2-0 lead. Sam Turley, a 6-foot, 3-inch senior forward, controlled the inside with rebounding and putbacks. The Huskies held senior guard Johnny Sugarman to four points. But the 6-foot returning All-2A WIC first-teamer, whom Little calls a player of the year candidate, “distributed the ball well to open jumpers for Ambrose — most of which they hit.” Marsing struggled to get rebounds against the taller Archers, but Acosta pulled down five boards and Braden Ankeny added three. Both players did their work on the defensive glass. Nacho Margarito was the most successful field-goal shooter for the home squad, knocking down seven of nine attempts for his 14 points. The Huskies went 16-for-44 (36.3 percent) from the floor.

coach said. Enrico led the squad with six assists, too. Quebrado was 3-for-4 from the foul line and drained three three-point goals to lead all players with 14 points. Dusty Engle, who has been promoted from the junior varsity to full-time varsity status, scored four points in his first start and also contributed to the defensive effort. The Aviators steadily built a lead throughout the game. Marsing trailed by five at halftime and then found itself in a 10-point deficit with about three minutes left in the third quarter. “Compass is a very scrappy team, and they shot the ball very well,” Little said. “But (the fourth quarter) was one of the best quarters that we have played all season, which is especially tough when only having six full-time varsity players.” Robles missed another game with a knee injury. Acosta controlled the backboards despite nursing a knee injury suffered during the Truckstop.com tournament. Acosta delivered eight points and grabbed five of his team-high eight rebounds on defense.

After hitting the floor hard, Quebrado returned to score nine of his team’s 10 points in a second-quarter attempt to pull out of a 20-4 deficit. Playing with three fouls since the 5-minute, 40-second mark of the second period, Quebrado ended his mini-run with a floater in the lane and a three-pointer from the top of the key. But while Quebrado was successful from long range, his teammates were unable to connect on their jump shots. That was not the case with the Archers, who mixed an aggressive game at the glass with effective outside shooting. Returning all-conference player Tyson Hughes fired in

Jan. 4: Marsing 51, Compass Honors 41 — Three-pointers from Quebrado and Dominic Enrico ignited a 21-6 fourth-quarter rumble that gave the Huskies a comeback conference victory. “The run started with two huge 3s to get us the first lead of the game,” Little said. Margarito scored eight of his 12 points and took “charge on the defensive end to put a stop to Compass’ chances,” the

Two Mustangs take down Mtn. View titles

Owyhee County’s McKoy Richardson continued his hot start to the high school wrestling season during the weekend. The 138-pounder was one of two Melba High School athletes to win Mountain View JV Invitational championships in Meridian. Three Mustangs competed for titles. Logan Dunn captured the 152-pound title at the Friday-Saturday tournament. Richardson (18-1) pinned his way through the bracket, sealing the gold medal by putting Kuna’s Richard Altman to the mat four seconds before the end of the title bout’s opening round. He also had pinfalls against Eric Tremayne of Idaho Falls (2 minutes, 39 seconds) and Parker Allumbaugh of Bishop Kelly (1:51) before getting Eagle’s Kobe McEwen in the quarterfinals (2:20) and dispatching Vallivue’s Devin Kent (2:15) in a semifinal match. Dunn (13-3) pinned Christopher Biggs of Meridian’s new high school, Owyhee, in 76 seconds to collect the 152 championship. He reached the tournament final with a pinfall against Eagle’s Kristjan Indermitte (2:54) in the semifinals. Dunn collected three other pins in the tournament—against Weston Morris of Idaho Falls (4:09) in the quarterfinals, and Bonneville’s Grant Andrus (2:23), and Thunder Ridge’s Kaidne Millar (25 seconds) in preliminaries. Teammate Grant Svedin (16-3) was runner-up at 145 pounds, taking Moscow’s once-beaten Andrew Bollinger into the third period before a pinfall at 5:15. Svedin pulled out a 5-3 decision against Madison’s Payson Abrams to qualify for the championship round. The Melba wrestler worked hard throughout the tournament: A 9-1 major decision against Ridgevue’s Colton Johnson in the opening round and a tight 2-1 decision against La Grande, Ore.’s Dominick Carratello preceded a pin of Hillcrest’s Kendric Anderson (2:30) in the quarterfinals.

✓ Antelopes: Championship keeps Clow unbeaten

Friday and Saturday at Joseph High School in northeastern Oregon. Clow (16-0) edged Santiam Christian’s Andrew Haase, 4-2, in the title match. He reached the championship with 6-2 semifinal triumph against Culver’s Clancy Rutledge. Clow started with a 14-second pin of Max Moritz of Santiam Christian. Tolman went 2-0 to take her crown, pinning Megan Brock of the Joseph/Wallowa cooperative (2 minutes, 52 seconds) and Milah Fincher of Union (3:39). Derek Faulconer also competed at 160 pounds in the boys’ tournament.

NOTICE OF PROPOSED CHANGE OF WATER RIGHT TRANSFER NO. 85379 SV RANCH LLC, GREG VIK PO BOX 1607, BELLEVUE, WA 98009-1607 has filed Application No. 85379 for changes to the following water rights within OWYHEE County(s): Right No(s).2-2357A, 57-235; to see a full description of these rights and the proposed transfer, please see <https://research.idwr.idaho.gov/apps/waterrights/querynewtransfers>. The purpose of the transfer is to change a portion of the above rights as follows:

The purpose of the transfer is to revert 6 acres of right 57-235 and 3 acres of right 2-2357A back to irrigation. The acres and associated rates were transferred to wildlife storage and diversion to storage in 2011 to mitigate for two new permits for wildlife storage. The permits were never developed and use was never established. This transfer seeks to return the storage volume and diversion to storage rate back to irrigation. Water will be used at the current place of use off Weese Rd., approximately 0.5 miles south of the Snake River.

For additional information concerning the property location, contact Western Region office at (208) 334-2190. Protests may be submitted based on the criteria of Idaho Code Sec. 42-222. Any protest against the proposed change must be filed with the Department of Water Resources, Western Region, 2735 W AIRPORT WAY, BOISE ID 83705-5082 together with a protest fee of $25.00 for each application on or before 1/24/2022. The protestant must also send a copy of the protest to the applicant.

Third-quarter drought dooms Homedale boys

Homedale High School was perfect from the free-throw line Saturday, but Kimberly got several more chances and made them work in a non-conference boys' basketball victory on the road.

The Bulldogs emphatically shattered a halftime tie, riding a 20-3 run through the third quarter for a 52-35 blowout on the Trojans' floor.

Homedale (6-5 overall) built a 16-12 lead early in the second quarter after back-to-back three-point goals from Hayden Kincheloe and Trenton Fisher.

But the Bulldogs seemingly got a boost in the immediate aftermath of Fisher's shot from the top of the key. Kincheloe was called for a technical foul, and Kimberly's Jacob Lloyd drained both free throws.

The teams traded baskets until halftime. Kincheloe hit a driving jump shot for an 18-16 lead 5 minutes, 22 seconds before the break.

But Kimberly (6-3) went on a 6-0 run for a 22-18 lead on Jaxon Bair's jump shot 2½ minutes before intermission.

Homedale's leading scorer Jaxon Dines scored four of his 10 points on a pair of acrobatic layups to knot the score before halftime.

Mason Strong scored nine points for the Trojans. Gatlin Bair, who threw down a slam dunk after Kincheloe's bad pass in the second quarter, led all players with 22 points. He was 8-for-12 from the floor and missed on only one of his seven foul shots.

Kimberly went 11-for-13 from the line. Homedale only made three trips to the foul line with Dines (2-for-2) and Kincheloe (one foul shot) hitting all their chances.

Jaxon Bair scored 10 points, missing just one try from inside the three-point line.

Homedale's Mason Strong (right) battles the defense of Kimberly's Gatlin Bair (1) and Jaxon Bair while driving to the basket Saturday.

Stewart, Neeser get big wins

Three of Homedale High School's four female wrestlers were victorious during the Rollie Lane Invitational.

LaRae Stewart (2-7) was the only Trojan to pick up a championship bracket win, pinning La Grande, Ore.'s Riley Robinson in 2 minutes, 16 seconds of their opening-round match at 132 pounds.

Stewart took 30 seconds to pin Sapheera Staggie of Thunder Ridge for a consolation win.

Trinity Neeser notched a pair victories in the consolation bracket at 126 pounds.

Neeser (5-6) beat Kathryn Ambute of Spokane, Wash.'s Gonzaga Prep, 5-1, and hammered Caldwell's Paola Ruiz Saldana, 11-0.

Elizabeth Hergesheimer (7-5 at 120) won in the second consolation round, 9-4, against Angela Carl of Payette.

Myra Jean Koon (1-6 at 160) also competed for the Trojans.
