One horse will be in action at the 4-H county show

For the second year in a row, a Marsing youth took part in the Bureau of Land Management Mustang Mania.

Andrew, 11-year-old son of Chadd and Michelle Parr, finished sixth overall in the Junior Division at the competition.

His mother, Michelle, competed for the second consecutive year, too.

Andrew's sister, Alicia, competed in Mustang Mania last year.

Deputies' departures spotlight dilemma

Commissioner: Levy override key to higher salaries

Owyhee County Sheriff Larry Kendrick is shuffling his roster to ensure coverage in the wake of the impending resignations of three patrol deputies.

The short-term solution Kendrick prefers is filling the vacancies from within. He said Sunday that there will be "testing" for patrol candidates from interested detention deputies.

All three deputies are leaving for agencies in communities with larger tax bases than Owyhee County.

The long-term solution, though, is not as clear-cut or, in at least one county commissioner's eyes, easy.

District 2 Commissioner Kelly Aberasturi cut off Cpl. Travis Leedom's exit speech during the July 24 Board of County Commissioners meeting with the question at the center of the pleas from Leedom and departing Deputy Miguel Ruiz to improve pay and benefits to retain long-term deputies who are heading to agencies with more attractive job offers.

"How do we pay for it? That's the issue," Aberasturi said. "We're maxed. We only have a certain amount of tax dollars. You want to do an override levy? Let's go do it."

Leedom claimed that the public was unaware of how dire the situation was for the Officials mark past, future of Terry Reilly in Homedale

New clinic temporarily closed during next week's demolition

A familiar landmark on the east side of Homedale's business corridor will disappear beginning Monday.

Officials from many facets of the project turned out Thursday to celebrate the new Terry Reilly Health Services comprehensive clinic in Homedale.

Now that the ribbon cutting pomp and circumstance is complete, the old building near the corner of East Idaho Avenue and South 1st Street East will be demolished.

The demolition project begins Monday, and the new clinic will be closed for a week for safety reasons, TRHS officials said. Upon reopening, clinic clients will be able to park in a brand-new lot where the old building now stands.

The new clinic opened to patients on July 17, but the general public — including TRHS and affiliated health leaders, local and federal government officials and TRHS board members such as Homedale's Robyn Page — got their first glimpse at the completed project after Thursday's ribbon cutting.

The clinic now houses medical, dental, mental health and X-ray services all under one roof. This allowed TRHS to vacate the dental offices on North 2nd Street in Homedale, freeing up that building to become the Owyhee County Justice Center. The county issued a request for bids on the remodel of that building, which is already home to the county probation office, last month.

Although the old clinic — in use since 1981 — is going away, TRHS director of community engagement and communications Claudia Weathermon kicked off last week's ceremony with a reminder that the pioneer mural Jeff Wakelam added to the west wall in 1997 has been remembered in the foyer of the new building.

“The old clinic with the ‘heritage piece’ is open so you can say your goodbyes and walk into the future as you walk into the new building,” she said.

The art installation on the east wall of the entrance to the new building features several glimpses of Wakelam's mural, including the pioneer man and Oregon Trail covered wagons that were erased when the north portion of the old clinic was taken down to make room for the new footprint.

There were plenty of folks on hand for the farewell and welcome, including Page and Murphy resident Mary O'Malley.

O'Malley worked for Terry Reilly when services were provided in the building now occupied by The Owyhee Avalanche offices at 21 E. Idaho Ave., kitty-corner from the modern clinic. She moved to the TRHS Nampa location after a car came barreling through the front wall of the 21 E. Idaho Ave., building.

That accident facilitated the move to the clinic that had been in operation for more than 40 years.

What is now the Avalanche office was the second location for TRHS in Homedale. The pioneering community health provider for whom the organization is now named first brought services to Owyhee County in the basement of St. Hubert's Catholic Church on the corner of East 1st Street North and East Owyhee Avenue in 1972. Months later, the clinic was moved to what is now the Avalanche building.

Terry Reilly CEO Heidi Hart said the project Boise-based Stroth General and its subcontractors completed a month ahead of schedule was the third attempt to bring a new clinic to Homedale.

“The Stroth Engineering team has worked really hard to bring this dream to fruition,” Hart said.

“September was the original completion timeline, but they finished ahead of schedule so we could have the ribbon cutting on one of the hottest days of the year.”

Hart also acknowledged JGT Engineers and pointed out that the new clinic would open with no construction debt, which would keep healthcare costs down and ensure service is accessible.

Terry Reilly Foundation chair Chuck Knox said the debt-free start was made possible by fundraising and help from D.L. Evans Bank, United Heritage Insurance, Molina Cares, Simplot Co., Foundation, the Laura Moore Cunningham Foundation, the Maybelle Clark MacDonald Foundation, and the Health Resources and Services Administration.

Tobin Dixon from the Idaho office of the U.S.

Department of Agriculture Rural Development was on hand to tout the Emergency Rural Healthcare Program, which provided money for the project through American Rescue Plan Act funding.

Delta Dental of Idaho also played a vital role in the project, and CEO Greg Donaca spoke on the dwindling dentist and dental assistant populations in rural areas.

He said 95 percent of Idaho's counties (42 of 44) are considered "dental deserts."

“That’s where Terry Reilly does a great job with dental services,” he said of keeping the option open in places like Homedale and Marsing.

Thursday's ribbon cutting also was a somber time as those gathered remembered two men important to TRHS and the Homedale clinic specifically who had recently passed away — former executive director Dr. Erwin “Ern” Teuber, who died on May 29, and Richard “Dick” Ernst, a longtime healthcare provider at the Homedale clinic, who died days before the ribbon cutting. — JPB county’s deputies, even after the county publicized the new pay scale, which was adopted and then revamped after an outcry from the previous sheriff’s office administration more than a year ago.

“I think education on the public should have been done prior. It hasn’t. I think our public is misled in the amount that we actually receive because if you look at our pay scale and look at my pay stub, it does not reflect that,” Leedom said.

Abersaturi said the pay scale issue was publicized, and the commissioners elected to focus on the early pay raises for the newest of deputies.

But he didn’t dispute the core complaint from both Leedom and Ruiz.

“I support you,” he said. “You show me how to pay for it.”

Grand View resident Victoria Collett, who attended the BOCC meeting via Zoom, provided comments in the chat field:

“It’s not the employees’ job to tell the employer how to pay them,” she said. “It’s so short-sighted of the county commissioners to dismiss these concerns and to lose all that training.”

Kendrick said by the time a deputy reaches his five-year mark, about $130,000 has been spent to train him.

“So they’re saying they have $390,000 to pay and train new people?” Collett asked in her chat post.

Leedom laid out his family’s monthly expenses ($2,600 for mortgage, car payments and utilities) compared to his $3,300 monthly take-home pay ($52,000 gross annual salary) and offered that he would be $1,100 in the red if he insured his family on the county’s Gem Plan at a cost of $1,800 per month.

“It’s all of our problem, and we just have to find some creative solutions,” Kendrick said of the situation.

He added that county officials are evaluating other health insurance plans.

“(County Clerk) Angie Barkell has spent many sleepless nights worrying about this situation. I’m sure our commissioners have as well,” Kendrick said. “Angie is an elected official, but she has helped us so much. I just don’t think you could find a better county clerk that’s doing what’s she’s doing and helping us out with this issue. She’s just gone above and beyond.”

The Marsing city deputy who is heading for the Malheur County Sheriff’s Office, Leedom is a nine-year veteran of the sheriff’s office.

“I’ll start with the wages, and I would like to shed some light on the negligence and the way they’ve been handled regarding myself,” Leedom told the commissioners.

He said when he moved to the patrol staff from his jailer position, he was told his wage would remain the same.

“I was taken from $21 an hour to $18.60, nearly a $2.50 pay cut, totaling approximately $7,000 per year,” he said of his move during the previous administration. “During FY 21, 1 was moved to $19.07 and after our comprehensive wage study, I was given a four-cent raise.”

He said while making $19.11 after the 2022 pay raise, he was training new, uncertified hires as a certified high-liability instructor with an intermediate patrol certification. One of the new deputies he was training started at $19.70 per hour.

Leedom said his wage currently is $22.99, although — he says — according to the county pay scale he should be making $28 to $30 per hour, or $12,000 more annually.

“We’ve put the livelihoods of ourselves and our families entrusted in your hands,” Leedom told the commissioners.

“You have failed us. Even more, we have failed the community.”

Ruiz’s address to the commissioners focused on his claim that his hourly wage is disparate to the certifications and experience and work he has put in for the agency. Ruiz is one of the deputies who has developed OCSO’s new cadet program, which Kendrick said is aimed at developing young people who potentially want to stay home in the county and begin law enforcement careers.

Ruiz told the commissioners that despite 7½ years experience as a peace officer, owning a bachelor’s degree and basic, intermediate, advanced and instructor certifications from the Idaho Peace Officers Standards and Training academy and being OCSO’s only bilingual patrol deputy, he was still receiving the salary of a first-year deputy before his pay was increased from $19.70 per hour to $22 per hour in May.

“My worth was the same as a civilian entering law enforcement with no experience, and I have been with this agency for two years,” Ruiz said.

Ruiz said that because of low OCSO wages, a fellow deputy, his wife and newborn son moved in with Ruiz “because neither of use could afford to live anywhere on our own.”

A Nampa resident, Ruiz said, “We live in a small townhouse where we are barely able to make ends meet.”

He said he also worked the county’s boat inspection station for extra money between April and June and made $2 more each hour than his full-time patrol job. He said he had a total of 12 days off in that three-month span.

“Working those amount of hours in our line of work is not only taxing, but dangerous, placing my safety on the line more than we already do because I need to make sure my bills are paid,” Ruiz said.

Ruiz said he has already been through a similar situation. He spent five years at another agency, the deputies of which were the lowest-paid in that area.

“I gave my time to them hoping things could get better, and five years later they were still the lowest paid,” he said. “I cannot afford to make the same mistake when I can go to any other agency in the area and have better pay and benefits.”

Ruiz is heading to the Middleton Police Department, and Kendrick mentioned that another deputy — Jeff Garvey — also will be moving to the Middleton agency.

“Our deputies are out there willing to take a bullet for the people of Owyhee County, but they’re eligible for welfare,” Kendrick said. “That should not be. That’s a tragedy.”

Ruiz said that fact is one reason for his departure.

“I cannot afford to invest my time and faith in this department knowing my future family will be in the same situation. I will be going to an agency with better pay, benefits and opportunities for growth,” he said.

“I sincerely hope you hear what we are saying because it is not just a few. It is an agency-wide issue. And if change does not happen, this agency will continue to be a stepping stone by investing its time and money to create law enforcement officers who will ultimately leave for other departments.”

the bottom portion of the sign sometime in the evening last Wednesday.

“I know the sign has been up for quite some time,” Garsvo said. “I believe and remember Tish Lewis helped paint that sign. We are looking for donations, and people can donate directly to the museum.”

Lewis is a well-known Murphy-area resident and a longtime Owyhee County Historical Society member.

Call the museum at (208) 495-2319 for more information.

The museum is open Tuesday through Saturday.

The original sign was shaped like the state of Idaho and had the museum’s familiar wagon wheel logo.

“I plan to make a new sign out of sheet steel that will look very similar in shape to the original sign,” Garsvo said.

County Sheriff Larry Kendrick said his office is investigating the vandalism.

The party or parties found responsible could face misdemeanor malicious injury to property charges, the potential punishment for which is a fine and as much as a year in jail time.

The sheriff thinks that the vandalism was perpetrated either by a local resident or someone traveling on the nearby Bureau of Land Management trailhead.

“Nothing else was tagged on the trailhead. I think that’s significant,” Kendrick said. “If it’s a local, the way people talk in small towns, I’m sure we’ll find out eventually.”

Junior livestock shows, sale provide learning opportunities

The purposes of 4-H and FFA market animal projects are to help teach kids responsibility, teach the value of hard work, and to give them some life experience raising livestock.

Scott Jensen

Market livestock projects provide some excellent learning opportunities for kids. There is a meme that is shared frequently on Facebook this time of year: “We don’t use kids to raise livestock. We use livestock to raise kids.” I think that is a great summary purpose of the 4-H and FFA livestock projects.

The Owyhee County Fair market livestock shows will begin at noon on Wednesday, Aug. 9 with the goat shows beginning at 10 a.m. There are 30 market goat exhibitors. The sheep show will get underway at 1 p.m., with 79 exhibitors.

Thursday at 8 a.m., will be the beef show. There were 44 market steers entered this year.

The dairy show will begin Thursday at 3:30 p.m., with 14 animals.

The swine show will get underway at 8 a.m., on Friday with 119 exhibitors entered.

Saturday, Aug. 12, the large animal round robin begins at 8 a.m.

The Owyhee County Junior Livestock Sale will begin at noon. The sale will be preceded by a buyers’ lunch at 11 a.m.

This lunch is paid for by the kids from the proceeds of the sale of their animals.

There are three ways that you can support youth at the sale:

- First, you can purchase the animal outright to have it butchered for your personal consumption. The sale committee will see that it is delivered to the custom butcher of your choice.

- The second option is to purchase the animal and then “turn it back to the floor.” You would then pay the difference between the bid price and the floor price. The animal is then sold/delivered to the floor buyer.

- The third option is to do an “add-on.” To add on to a youth, you simply complete an add-on form for one or more kids and submit the form along with payment to the sale committee or the Extension Office.

If you would like to bid on a project animal but cannot attend the sale, please contact a sale committee member or our office, and we will gladly help you.

The sale committee will disperse funds to the kids when all the funds have been collected.

The sale committee collects a small commission from the sale of each animal and from each add-on to cover the expenses of putting on the sale and buyers’ lunch.

Market livestock projects provide an excellent learning opportunity for our youth. I encourage you to show your support during the junior livestock shows at the Owyhee County Fair and at the Owyhee County Junior Livestock Sale on Aug. 12 at the fairgrounds!

Use God’s word to put children on right path

Jesus said, “Let the little children come to Me, and do not forbid them; for of such is the Kingdom of God. Assuredly, I say to you, whoever does not receive the Kingdom of God as a little child will by no means enter it.” And He took them up in His arms, laid his hands on them, and blessed them.

— Mark 10:14-16

Children must be taught to have a Biblical worldview from the beginning of their lives. A Biblical worldview is based on God’s unchanging Word, which provides the perfect path for helping all of us to shape our decisions and actions. George Barna, senior fellow with the Family Research Council’s Center for Biblical Worldview, tells us that a child’s worldview is typically formed by age 13.

A person’s worldview is where beliefs determine behavior. Barna warns, “As we think about our future, our priority must be children. Disciplining children is the single-most important thing we can do with our lives.”

Mentoring, teaching and coaching young children in God’s ways is a spiritually edifying experience for children and adults as well. God calls parents to be the primary teachers for their children.

Solomon wrote, “Train up a child in the way he should go, and when he is old he will not depart from it.”

— Proverbs 22:6

Moses specified, “You shall teach [God’s commandments] to your children, speaking of them when you sit in your house, when you walk by the way, when you lie down, and when you rise up.”

— Deuteronomy 11:19

Nearly everywhere you look

in our culture today, institutions are determined to destroy the innocence of children and expose them to mature and inappropriate content at a young age. Parents must realize that a battle is being waged for the hearts and minds of their children and the only way to protect the children is to fill their hearts and minds with the Word of God.

Children must not only be taught the beautiful stories from God’s Word, but also the glorious Biblical doctrines that provide a solid foundation for understanding God’s truth and the spiritual disciplines needed for living in obedience to Holy Scripture. The Holy Bible is God’s guidebook, and it is perfect and impeccable; it does not need to be amended, edited or updated to accommodate a changing culture.

We must teach the children that there is only one true gospel. They must learn early on that the gospel offers eternal life as a free gift of God’s grace through faith in the Lord Jesus Christ. Believing that Jesus died for our sins brings a new birth into God’s family. That transformation brings one into loving submission to God’s sovereign will throughout all eternity; we gain a new life that will never end.

Remember, if we don’t teach our children to follow Christ, the world will teach them not to.

— Jack Muldoon is a long-time Marsing resident who has been instrumental in the non-denominational prayer breakfast staged at the Nazarene church as well as the annual Marsing High School all-alumni picnic in August.

Obituaries

Teresa Annette (Marchek) Richcreek

Teresa Annette Richcreek, of Boise, Idaho, by way of Garden Valley and Homedale, went to be with the love of her life, Skip, on Monday, June 12, 2023, at the age of 84. Her children and sister were with her right to the end.

Terry was born in Ontario, Oregon, on March 24, 1939, to Joseph & Ethel Marchek. She was the oldest of three children. She lost her brother, Philip, but loved to “mother” her baby sister, Teena, 13 years younger while they grew up in Homedale, Idaho.

Terry was a dancer at heart and performed and taught ballet, tap ballet and hula as a teen and young adult. She was also an accomplished horsewoman (like her Mama) and competed twice in the Snake River Stampede Queen competition. She traded all that to marry her high school sweetheart, Ralph Richcreek, at St. John’s Cathedral in Boise, ID, on August 31, 1957. They moved to San Diego, CA, where their first daughter was born. They moved back to Homedale and a son was born. After moving to Boise another son and daughter rounded out the family. Terry always said she had the perfect family – two boys and two girls – so each child had a brother and a sister.

Terry started her working career as a waitress at a lunch counter in a drugstore. She would take her break to go pick up the kids when they got out of school and then bring them back to “hang around” until closing time. She attended a secretarial training school in the evenings to improve her career options. It worked and she began her career with the Federal government which lasted for the next 30 years.

Even though Terry worked hard all day, she was never too tired to attend her kids’ school events and always tried to use her precious vacation time to spend with her husband and children. Whether that was a Disneyland trip, a camping trip in the mountains or a backpacking trip to the bottom of the Grand Canyon, she was always up for an adventure. She was never, however, put in charge of taking pictures.

One of Terry’s favorite activities was sitting behind Skip on a motorcycle traveling through the mountains or even into Canada with friends from their motorcycle club or close friends. And she never met a person she didn’t like! She could strike up a conversation with a total stranger and have a new friend when she was done talking. She loved to listen to music and, later in life, was able to enjoy dancing again with her friend, Darwin. She was always the first to welcome a new resident to her floor at The Terraces of Boise where she lived for the last five years of her life.

Survivors include her sister, Teena Marchek; daughter

Tammy (Dale) Gray, of Grand View, ID; son Dana (Linda) Richcreek, of Sarasota, FL; son Kellen (Nadine) Richcreek, of Caldwell, ID; and daughter Tenli (John) Caldwell, of Boise, ID. She is also survived by nine grandchildren and fourteen great-grandchildren. She was preceded in death by her brother, Philip, her parents Joe & Ethel Marchek, and her husband, Skip.

A Memorial Service is planned for Monday, August 28, 2023, at 10:30 am at Alden-Waggoner Funeral Chapel, 5400 Fairview Avenue, Boise. Interment will be at the Idaho State Veterans Cemetery with family only. In lieu of flowers, memorials may be made in Terry’s name to the Alzheimer’s Association of Idaho, Ballet Idaho, or the American Cancer Society.

Ray Dean Mount

Ray Dean Mount, 67, passed away on Sunday, July 23, 2023 in Boise, Idaho. Ray Dean was born in Nampa, Idaho on July 13, 1956. Ray Dean will be remembered as a loving husband, father, brother, grandpa, and friend to all.

Ray Dean and Marla (Bright) were married on November 22, 1980 in Elko, NV. The couple lived most of their lives in the Nampa/Caldwell area and the last three years in Jordan Valley, Oregon. Ray Dean was raised in Marsing, Idaho where he attended Marsing schools until high school graduation.

While in high school, Ray Dean followed his brother Robert and mom Donna and worked alongside them at the local supermarket Justo’s in Marsing. This began almost a lifetime of dedication to the grocery business, moving to Paul’s Markets after high school where he rose to the position of Produce Supervisor over all the Paul’s Markets. Ray Dean was admired for his knowledge of the produce business and his relentless work ethic. After semi-retirement from Paul’s, Ray Dean worked for a few years at D&B Supply. In 2020, Ray Dean and Marla moved to Jordan Valley where his father had been raised.

Ray Dean is survived by his wife Marla, daughter Sherae, son Dustin (Sara) Mount and their sons Auggie and Blaise along with granddaughter, Caitlin, and great-grandson, Roman; brother, Rob Mount & their sister, Janie Nielsen. He was preceded in death by his father, Bob Mount, and his mother, Donna (Hazen) Mount.

A celebration of life is planned for 10 AM, Saturday, August 5th at the Jordan Valley Lions Community Center (902 Bassett St, Jordan Valley, OR, 97910). In lieu of flowers the family requests a donation be made in Ray Dean’s name to the Jordan Valley Lions Club.

over the Treasure Valley, his mother said.

“I think his hard work paid off with a polished look and very complimentary remarks from the judges,” Parr said.

Although the Owyhee County 4-H Horse Show runs Monday and Tuesday in the fairgrounds rodeo arena in Homedale, Parr said her son won’t have Tucker under saddle until he is mature enough.

Once Tucker has the maturity to handle a saddle, Andrew plans to use him for 4-H, moving cows and riding trails.

Cow work and trail riding are part of the disciplines in the county horse show, which will begin at 8 a.m., each day on Monday and Tuesday to kick off Owyhee County Fair week.

While Andrew and Tucker may not be in the show this year, the Marsing youth made plenty of waves in Mustang Mania a month ago.

There were three parts of the competition — handling and conditioning, trail, and freestyle.

Andrew’s sixth-place overall finish was bolstered by an eighth-place showing in the Youth Rookie competition and a ninth-place finish in handling and conditioning.

He finished 11th with his freestyle performance and placed 13th in trail.

At the March 3 pick-up event, Andrew was among 38 boys and girls who picked up mustangs.

Parr was one of 78 adults competitors to pick up animals.

Parr took on the Mustang Mania challenge for the second consecutive year after choosing a 5-year-old mare from the Diamond Hills HMA in Nevada.

She was approved for the riding division and won the freestyle championship at Mustang Mania while competing against 16 other adults.

Parr named her mare Poppy.

“She proved to have a talent for jumping, and we capitalized on that to win the freestyle,” Parr said.

Parr and Poppy finished third in the trail and riding pattern disciplines, and the team was fifth in handling and conditioning.

She also brought home the Senior Young Gun overall championship.

“She was a challenge for me at first and then gentled down to be an amazing family horse,” Parr said.

Her son, Alex, will ride Poppy at the county horse show next week.

Man arrested after waving gun outside resort

Folks coming over the county line for recreation and potentially straining resources is nothing new.

But last Wednesday, Owyhee County Sheriff's deputies encountered a different type of county line-crossing that created a completely different — and dangerous — situation.

Sheriff Larry Kendrick said a 48-year-old Mountain Home man who said his brother “dumped” him near CJ Strike Reservoir, was arrested after reportedly waving a gun at the owner of Black Sands Resort outside Grand View.

Jamie Joseph Georgianna posted a $50,000 bond to bail out of Owyhee County Jail on Friday, a day after his initial court appearance on a felony aggravated assault charge.

“His brother dumped him in Owyhee County from Mountain Home,” Kendrick said. “He bought him a tent and camping equipment and a bottle of whiskey and dumped him.”

The sheriff says the man was sleeping under a picnic table at the Black Sands Resort off Idaho highway 78 last Wednesday morning when the business owner contacted him.

“(The owner) tells him, ‘You’re going to have to move on and leave,’ and (Georgianna) loads a .357 Python and starts waving it around and pointing it at the restaurant and building,” Kendrick said.

The resort owner put a shotgun by his door and called authorities, the sheriff said.

Deputies arrested Georgianna shortly before 9 a.m., and transported him to Owyhee County Jail.

Kendrick said the man apparently slept on the resort grounds overnight.

Georgianna’s next court appearance is a preliminary hearing at 1:30 p.m., on Tuesday in Murphy before Magistrate Shane Darrington.

Newly appointed Idaho State 4-H communications director Ainsley Erwin (right) of Bruneau thanks Owyhee cattlemen for the association’s replacement heifer program as OCA president Rex Hoagland listens. Ainsley said her brother Mitchell benefitted from receiving two heifers from the program. Hoagland is also sponsoring the heifer for Thomas Cossel, who was announced as a recipient Saturday. Hoagland will serve another year as president after the membership approved by a near-unanimous vote bylaws changes establishing two-year terms for vice-president and president.

Campos PRs, Ankeny reaches semis at Jr. Olympics

Owyhee County athletes made a splash at the Junior Olympics Track and Field national championships last week.

Marsing's Braden Ankeny was able to advance out of the 17-18 boys' 200-meter preliminaries.

Homedale's Aleczander Campos posted personal records in two of the three throws for which he qualified in the 13-14 boys' division.

The Junior Olympics were held at Hayward Field on the University of Oregon campus in Eugene between July 24 and Sunday.

Running as an unattached athlete, Ankeny finished 22nd out of 23 runners in the 100-meter semifinals, improving on his preliminary heat effort by .01 of a second. But an 11.04-second run wasn't enough to get the incoming Marsing High School senior a step closer to the finals.

The son of Marsing track and field coach Heidi Ankeny and Luke Ankeny ran an 11.05 for the 21st-fastest time in the 100 preliminaries.

In the 200, Ankeny ran a 21.86-second preliminary heat, missing the semifinals by two spots and .70 of a second.

A member of the Gem State Throwers, Campos finished 17th in a field of 69 discus throwers. His effort of 126 feet, 1 inch on Saturday was 17 feet better than his previous personal best.

The son of former Boise State University track and field athlete Amber Campos also PR'd in the javelin, finishing 27th at 108-11. Competing against 62 other throwers, The younger Campos improved his personal-best distance by 20 feet.

Campos was 41st out of 60 in the shot put with a 32-2¾ mark.

The Homedale Middle School student's mother is also an assistant coach for the Homedale High School track and field team.

FYB rallies from brink to capture Percifield tournament title

Upper Division champion FYB came back from a Saturday loss to Bad Company, beating the same team twice on Sunday to win the Upper Division championship at the 42nd annual Percifield Memorial Coed Softball Tournament at Marsing High School. The wild, decisive victory came in the second title game late in the afternoon. FYB led, 17-8, after Travis Oswald's fourth-inning home run, but Bad Company rallied to tie the score with nine runs in the top of the fifth. FYB scored on a four-base error in the bottom of the fifth to take the lead for good, 18-17.

Volunteers help tourney that helps community

JW Chadez thanked the athletes and all the volunteers who helped make the 42nd annual Percifield Memorial Coed Softball Tournament a success.

More than 30 people turned out last Wednesday to help set up the Marsing High School fields for the tournament, which started Friday. Chadez, who is tournament co-director with his wife Amy, said the community's generosity helps youth sports in Marsing.

Part of the proceeds have allowed JW Chadez, the Huskies' baseball coach, to invest $50,000 in improving the Huskies' game-day and practice facilities.

Chadez said the volunteerism has allowed the tourney to thrive into a fifth decade.

"Nowadays, it seems traditions don't matter," he said. "But traditions die because people don't want to do the work to keep it going."

Promise abounds even after Legion season's disappointing end

Summer team chock full of Trojans itching for spring

The sky may be the limit for the Owyhee Rivercats, but the young baseball squad's 14-game winning streak and season came to a halt last week.

With the only player who will be aging out of American Legion baseball — D'Orr Packer — out of the lineup and out of state, the Rivercats squeaked out an opening-round win then lost two straight games in the State A Tournament at Rodeo Park in Nampa.

Coach Burke Deal's team ended the season at 26-5, but combining the summer season and the Homedale High School season, the core of athletes making up the program won 46 of 61 games played since March.

Deal says chemistry has as much to do with the success as the crew's talent.

"(The chemistry is) pretty darn good," he said. "I think we have as much going for us as any team we've had."

"The neat thing is this is a really good bunch of boys. We'll be able to push them hard. There's a lot of versatility and a lot of positivity."

Six of the players will return to the Trojans prep squad in the spring as seniors, and Andrew Marston will be back after missing the 2022 season because of injuries. Two other Legion players — Lane Zehr and Wily Bideman — got their first taste of Homedale baseball. They're transferring into

HHS sports registration moves online for 2023-24

Athletes must be signed up to start practice Monday

The fall sports season is looming, and Homedale High School is trying something new to register athletes.

Athletic director Casey Grove shared details of the online process in an email last week.

All high school athletes can register at <https://homedaleschools-ar.schooltoday.com/>. A "How to register" link is on the left side of the page under quick links. Registration is available under the "Activity Registration" tab.

There is also a video to walk folks through setting up an account and registering.

The registration site is also available at www.trojansports.net.

All athletes must be registered before fall sports practices begin on Monday. Athletes who haven't been registered won't be able to practice until the process is finished.

juniors or any boy or girl who didn't get a physical last year must still get a physical.

Physical forms can be uploaded on the registration site.

There are six steps in the registration process, and registrants can click "save and finish later" to save progress at any time.

Sports fees can be paid online at the site, too. But the fees — $75 per sport per athlete — can be paid during registration or in the main office after the first day of school.

Registration can be carried out for all sports for all seasons in the 2023-24 school year.

Grove said the parents of any new HHS students must email their child's first name and last name and date of birth to Grove at cgrove@homedaleschools.org so he can add the child to the system.

Children have to be in the system in order to register online.

the school district in a matter of weeks.

Although George D. VanDerhoff American Legion Post 32 in Homedale is defunct, Deal said the team still identified as Post 32 for the state tournament. Efforts are being made to bring on another veterans' organization to sponsor the summer team going forward.

Friday: Idaho Falls Bruins 7, Rivercats 1 — The Bruins took advantage of Owyhee miscues to score six unearned runs and end the Rivercats' run at Lofholm Field.

The Rivercats were limited to four hits.

Shortstop Dillon Fine went 2-for-2 with a triple and drove in his team's only run. Xavier Uranga scored after drawing one of his two walks.

Payton Fine and Bideman collected the other singles for Owyhee.

Lukas Hall took the loss, striking out three in 5 2/3 innings.

Thursday: Coeur d'Alene 6, Rivercats 1 — A seventh-inning rally didn't materialize as Owyhee dropped into the losers' bracket of the double-elimination tournament.

Dillon Fine brought his 91 mph fastball but couldn't overpower the Lumbermen despite 11 strikeouts in the game's first five innings.

Coeur d'Alene owned a 4-0 lead when the Rivercats broke through for their only run in the top of the fifth inning.

Fine capped his 3-for-4 day with an RBI. He doubled in the game, too.

Chance Martell scored the Rivercats' only run in the fifth.

Owyhee tried to mount rallies in the sixth and seventh innings.

Back at his catcher position, Hall blasted a single through shortstop, and Zehr drew a full-count walk in the sixth. But the Rivercats couldn't get anyone across.

Coeur d'Alene added its final run in the top of the seventh before Owyhee gave it another shot.

Martell led off the seventh with a walk, and Uranga smacked a single to center field before the Lumbermen's reliever got three straight outs, including a called third strike on a full-count pitch.

Last Wednesday: Rivercats 3, Blackfoot 2 — Deal's brand of small ball and fundamentals pushed Owyhee to a narrow tournament-opening victory.

The Rivercats stayed one step ahead of Post 23 throughout the contest.

Homedale scored the all-important third run in the fourth when Bideman took the first pitch to center field for a two-out RBI single. Andres Garcia, who had led off by reaching on an infield error, scored.

Blackfoot rallied for a run in the bottom of the inning with three consecutive singles, but starter Payton Fine wiggled off the hook with a strikeout, and Hall ended the threat by throwing out Maddex Hone when he tried to swipe second base with two outs.

Payton Fine fanned seven batters and walked none while scattering four hits. Deal pulled the right-hander after his pitch count topped 80 in the bottom of the sixth.

Dillon Fine came on and walked the batter he inherited before sitting down Jace Cooper and Cole Robinson on strikeouts. The latter batter watched Strike 3 cross the plate to end the inning without a swing of the bat.

Dillon Fine struck out four batters over 1 2/3 innings, and the only base runner he allowed was the inherited walk. He also hustled toward the first-base line and made a diving tag when Hone tried to open the seventh inning with a bunt.

He sailed two pitches past his catcher and to the backstop — eliciting a "Let's go, Vaughan" from a father who was channeling the movie Major League from the stands — before he got Peyton Taylor looking at a third strike to end the game.

He was 2-for-3 at the plate, and Bideman also had a pair of singles to pace the Rivercats' seven-hit attack.

Old Timers Beef Barbecue planned by C of C

Initial plans for the Old Timers Beef Barbecue were made at the general meeting of the Homedale Chamber of Commerce held Tuesday noon at the Owyhee Lanes Banquet room.

Dee Monson was appointed general chairman of the barbecue with Verdis Wilson, Gordon Cahill and Marion Vance assisting.

Hal Tolmie and Darryl Warwick were named co-chairmen of the Chamber-sponsored Coke booth at the Owyhee County Fair and will be assisted by Homer Anderson and Hon Heitzman. Other committee workers are to be announced at the next meeting.

The beef barbecue will be held at the city park with the serving time to start immediately following the Fair parade on Saturday, Aug. 18.

The Chamber voted to sponsor their second annual “Great Canoe Race” with Hal Tolmie as chairman. Invitations are to be sent to all Chambers of Commerce in the Treasure Valley to participate in the novelty competition.

Homedale’s Chamber members are the defending champions and, therefore, are issuing a challenge to area chambers for the 1973 title.

Water faucets run dry as motor fails

City water lines were dry for nearly an hour Monday evening about 10 p.m. when a transformer burned out at the city well near Snake River in North Homedale, according to Paul Simon, watermaster.

Simon said the well near the city hall had been shut down since Saturday because of an overload on the pump, and the river well was the only supplying water when the Monday evening outage occurred.

Normally the two wells are both hooked into the system so that if one pump is down the other continues to supply water.

MATRIMONIAL.—By reference to a marriage notice in our columns to-day it will be seen that our genial townsman, Bob Weeks, went on a furlough to Webfoot, perpetrated matrimony and will arrive here in a few days with his blooming bride.

By that knowing blink Bob gave us when he went away we imagined he meant this. A couple of days since we received a note from the rogue informing us of circumstances, date, &c., and enclosing an order for half a dozen Boston crackers, a bottle of peppersauce and a hot round. We managed to exchange the crackers and peppersauce for a half a dozen champagne, and will leave the hot round for Bob after he “recooperates” from his alkali voyage to Owyhee. A long and merry life brimful of happiness is our wish for the newly wedded pair. Bob is an old typo and practiced in the art of locking up forms.

JUDGE MAY, Independent Democratic Candidate for Delegate to Congress, spoke in front of the Golden Chariot Saloon on Saturday evening last to quite a large and attentive audience. He alleges that Judge Shafer obtained the nomination through the manipulations of a few men representing but a small portion of the people at large. After reviewing the history of the late Democratic Territorial Convention, as well as of former ones, the speaker briefly touched upon the political issues of the day and seemed confident of being our next Delegate to Congress.

BACK AGAIN.—Our old friend, Fred Grete, has returned from a Winter’s sojourn in San Francisco, and will be happy to see his old friends and patrons at his barber shop, next door below Silver City Bakery. Mr. Grete has his family with him and intends to make this is permanent home.

E. P. STOWALL is proprietor of the Poorman and Overland Saloons, the former situated in the old Postoffice building., Washington St., and the latter on the corner of Washington and Third. Mr. Stowall, better known as “Poormam Pete” has his saloons arranged in the neatest and most inviting manner. Read his ad, to-day, and when you have leisure give him a call.

JOLLY.—Our jolly friend, Wm. H. Dewey, has our pious regards for that champagne and cake presented to us on the occasion of opening his new saloon last Saturday, which was also Mr. Dewey’s birth-day, many of which may he live to happily enjoy. His saloon is elegantly filled up and bar supplied with the best liquors and cigars.

FIRE IN BOISE CITY.—From the Boise City papers we learn that a destructive fire occurred in that place on Monday night last. It originated in a Chinese wash house, nearly opposite the express office. All the buildings from Masonic Hall to Crawford’s Corner were destroyed. The loss is estimated at $12,000.

THEATER.—Mr. John McGinley, who is a most persevering showman, and who has had a large experience in the theater business — in building as well as running them — has determined to fit up the upper story of the Golden Chariot building, corner Second and Jordan streets, for a theater. With an addition to its present capacity sufficient for stage purposes, this will make a comfortable and commodious hall, and is centrally located. Success to the theater and its proprietor.

Letters to the editor

Homedale Highway District job performance improves

Last September I wrote a letter to the editor with complaints about the Homedale Highway District. I am happy to say that this year has been a total turnaround.

Last year, I was fighting weeds from the property to the west. This year, Dan (Herman) and Barron (Pouge) have sprayed the yard repeatedly. This weed issue has been resolved because of this.

I also complained loudly about the no water on 2nd Street East during the chip seal jobs for the last few years. This issue has been resolved also. Both 1st and 2nd Streets East have been watered on multiple occasions each day this year.

Thank you to the Homedale Highway District for the good work. Keep it up!

Is it time to rethink the Mormon cricket's name?

In this age of wokeism, Owyhee County and indeed the Great Basin, are faced with a dilemma: What to do about the cricket invasion?

Recently at Silver City, I was visiting with Pat Nettleton at her shop when a tourist lady asked, "What are those awful insects?"

"They're Mormon crickets," answered Pat.

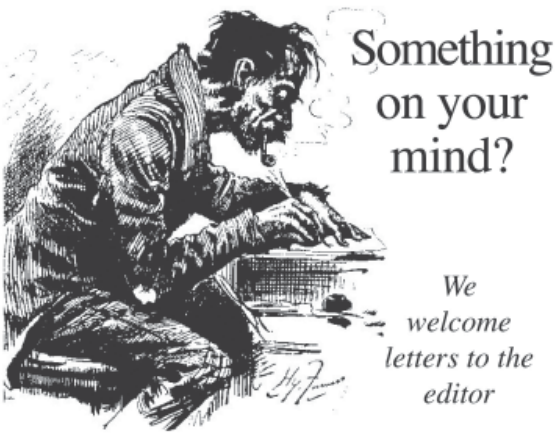

"What an awful thing to say," said the shocked lady.

"That's what they're called," softly answered Pat.

Statues are taken down, military posts, schools and streets renamed because they were judged offensive.

What can be done, history be darned, about calling an awful insect a "Mormon" cricket?

Negotiating strong Taiwan trade deal is important to Idaho producers Taiwan has a special relationship with Idaho. Taiwan is Idaho's second-largest trade partner, accounting for the purchase of more than $470 million in Idaho products in 2021, a 16 percent increase from the prior year, according to the Idaho Department of Commerce. Our top exports to Taiwan include electrical equipment and machinery; chemicals, fertilizers and cosmetics; optical and medical equipment; and food and agriculture products. Moreover, our exports are growing, as reflected in a deal in September where Taiwanese flour mills will buy Idaho wheat valued at $576 million. Highlighting the importance of the relationship between Taiwan, Idaho's Asia Trade Office is based in Taiwan and helps guide Idahoans through expanding sales of Idaho goods into not only Taiwan's market, but also assists with selling in Indonesia, Malaysia, Philippines, Singapore, Thailand and Vietnam.

However, our exports can grow even more. Enhancing our trade means jobs in Idaho and greater support for Taiwan to ensure it remains economically and defensibly secure. Engaging in strong, consistent discussions on trade with this important partner remains a focus of my work at the Senate Finance Committee. The importance of Taiwan as a trading partner is reflected in the passage of bipartisan, bicameral legislation to provide congressional approval of the first U.S.-Taiwan

Teach children value of hard work not expecting handouts

Dear Dave,

My husband and I are having arguments about money where our children are concerned. They are both 16, and I think they should have part-time jobs and be learning the value of work. He feels they're only young once and wants them to enjoy being teenagers. He also gives them money any-time they ask. I want our kids to have fun, too, but this is beginning to cause tension in our relationship. I'd love your advice.

— Kaytee

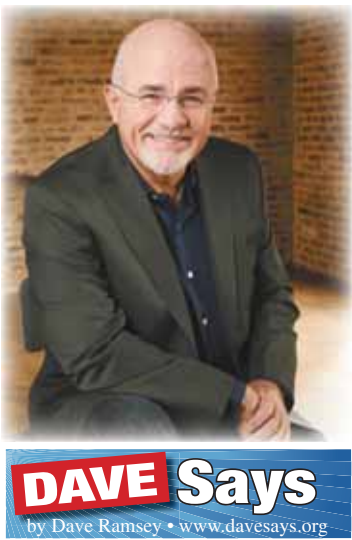

Dear Kaytee,

I understand your concern. I'm sure your husband has a good heart, but by doing this he's acting like a friend instead of a parent. In the process, he's allowing them to be nothing but takers and consumers. He's setting them both up for lifetimes of helplessness and ridiculous expectations without realizing it.

But yes, kids should absolutely learn to work, make money and manage it wisely from an early age. My wife and I gave nice gifts to our kids from time to time, but they also worked and made money for themselves. And the nicer gifts we gave them were for special occasions. Even then we didn't go crazy with things.

Still, the biggest problem you and your husband are experiencing is a communication breakdown. Your husband should stop being so impulsive, and grow a backbone where the kids are concerned.

You've recognized this — and you're right about it — so it's up to you to take the first step in finding a solution.

Try sitting down with him, just the two of you, and sincerely explaining your feelings. Let him know you love him and how generous he is. But let him know, too, you're worried this is having a negative impact on your children and why. Talk it out, openly and honestly, and try to agree on some changes together. There's a middle ground here, but it's going to take some time and effort from both of you to reach it.

Most of all, it means you two will have to communicate with each other like mature, caring adults, and pull together for the sake of your kids. It might be difficult at first, but it'll be worth it in the long run. For you and them.

Thanks, Kaytee!

✓ Taiwan: Biden Administration must work harder on key agreement

Initiative Agreement. This consequential legislation is further evidence Congress is ready to pursue an ambitious trade agenda on a bipartisan basis, and pushes the Biden Administration to recognize it is time to negotiate real trade agreements with market access and work with Congress to achieve strong trade policy beneficial to our country.

We have seen the Biden Administration pursue a fruitless and insufficient go-it-alone trade agenda. This has led to members of Congress on both sides of the aisle calling on the Administration to improve transparency and consultation with Congress on pending trade negotiations, yet the Administration has still not partnered with Congress and the American people, a partnership that is necessary for a strong and enduring trade agenda. The bipartisan legislation we passed not only sends a strong message on Congress' willingness to build a stronger trade partnership with Taiwan, but also clearly reasserts Congress' role in the process. The legislation provides for congressional approval of the first trade agreement arising from the U.S.-Taiwan Initiative on 21st Century Trade; calls for "the negotiation [with Taiwan] of high-standard, enforceable trade agreements that are meaningful to both the United States and Taiwan;" and imposes new congressional consultation and transparency requirements on the Administration with respect to the negotiation of any subsequent agreements arising under the Initiative.

Deepening our ties with Taiwan and its vibrant democracy is important for strengthening our long-term partnership, and Idaho businesses and producers stand to gain from improved access into Taiwan's market. Taiwan currently has the better deal, because its tariffs are higher than the United States' tariffs. We have every opportunity to build market access if the Biden Administration works constructively with Congress to promote market access and regulatory cooperation.

Assertive American trade policy unleashes

America's talent and productivity. Our country should be actively engaged in removing high tariffs and unscientific restrictions that penalize America's farmers and ranchers; breaking down barriers that stifle manufacturing exports; bolstering rather than waiving U.S intellectual property rights; and shelving measures that unreasonably target the U.S. digital economy. The Administration should be consulting Congress every step of the way, not bypassing the American people, as U.S. trade policy is strongest when the Administration and Congress work together. The Administration should recognize it is now time to negotiate real agreements with market access. Taiwan is a great place to start for the nation and Idaho.
